

and not to the solicitor. He was very sorry that the present position arose and he had every sympathy with the solicitors involved but he was powerless in the matter.

His Lordship stated that the order of the Court must be complied with. He would adjourn the matter with a view to giving Mr. O'Sullivan an opportunity of consulting with his clients. He added that the order of the Court could not be disregarded by any official of the Limerick County Council.

RISKS OF THE ROAD

THE PUSH "BIKE" MENACE

(To The Editor, "Limerick Leader").

Dear Sir—Kindly permit me, through the columns of your influential journal, to call attention to what I can only describe as a crying evil.

I have been cycling for more than 30 years and was also driving a motor car for some time, with the result that having a thorough realisation of the risks of the road I am, as a pedestrian, more than careful. We all have reason to know that some drivers are rather reckless, and yet in all these years I cannot remember that I have ever come within measurable distance of being struck by a car. On the other hand, I can state definitely that on hundreds of occasions it was my own agility and presence of mind that saved me from serious injury, or perhaps death, by being struck by a push "bike."

Now, the question will naturally arise—Why should any person run such a risk because some scatter-brained idiot thinks that he is the admiration of all beholders when he dashes around a corner without giving any indication of his approach? Day by day we can see fools of this type endangering other people's lives. Is there no means of preventing this being done? Time after time, when I have escaped only by inches from being struck and injured, the clown on the wheel would only give a grin of derision. Surely something should be done to stop this abuse, for which there is absolutely no excuse.—Thanking you in anticipation,

"OLD CYCLIST."

CROOM COURT

UNLAWFUL ASSEMBLY CHARGES

At Croom Court on Tuesday, before District Justice Kenny, B.L.,

Denis Farrell, Caherass, Croom; James Roche, Ballymahon; Michael Cregan, a leather pocket watch and between £10 and £20 and also an engagement ring, value 30/—, the property of Miss Annie Motherway, Oldcastletown.

Supt. Cooney, who prosecuted, said that he had received a communication from the Governor of Limerick Prison to the effect that defendant had been discharged from the City Hospital but was in a very weak condition. In consequence a remand to Croom Court was asked.

The Justice granted the remand.

THE SLIPPERY ROADS

SUGGESTION TO THE COUNTY COUNCIL

At the monthly meeting of Newcastle West Town Commissioners, Mr. W. Culhane, Chairman, presiding.

Mr. J. Fitten said that in view of the decrease in motor traffic the County Council should be asked to make provision for safeguarding horses on the roads, as otherwise farmers would not be able to bring their produce into the towns.

Mr. McAuliffe, Co.C., said that the Co. Surveyor was making provision in the coming year's road scheme for safeguarding horse traffic.

Mr. T. O'Connell, Co.C.—Thanks be to goodness, the horse is coming back into his own again.

BURIED WITH MILITARY HONOURS

The death took place at the County Hospital, Croom, on Sunday night, 2nd inst., of Michael McCarthy, Ballyma, Sherin's Cross, Kilmallock, aged 26 years. The deceased was a member of the A Group of the L.D.F. The funeral took place to the family burial ground, Dromin. The remains were taken over by the Defence Force. About 24 men in uniform shouldered the remains to the graveyard and after the last prayers were recited, Rev. Father O'Dea, P.P., officiating, assisted by Rev. Father O'Connell, C.C., the firing party, under the leadership of Mr. Denis Hogan, took up position and rendered full military honours. The six men of the firing party were comrades of the same squad as deceased.

FROZEN LOANS--A SETTLEMENT REACHED

A seizure of the stock of Mr. Joseph Fitzgerald, Kilmacow, Kilfinny (73 head of cattle), was made recently following a High Court action in which the Munster and Leinster Bank were plaintiffs. It is understood that a settlement has since been reached and that the bank conceded very generous terms through the intervention of Mr. James Collins.
