

IN LICENSED PREMISES

Yesterday at Limerick Circuit Court, before Judge D. Fawsitt, S.C.,

John Meagher, 3 Upper William Street, Limerick, appealed against the decision of the District Justice at Limerick on the 10th January in imposing a fine of £1, to be recorded on the licence, for permitting card-playing on his licensed premises.

Mr. J. McMahon, B.L. (instructed by Mr. J. S. McNeice, solr.), appeared for applicant, and Mr. J. J. Power, State Solicitor, was for respondent.

Mr. McMahon stated that the publican was fined when men were found on the premises playing cards for a turkey just prior to Christmas. At the District Court the Justice said he had no alternative but to endorse the licence, but recommended an appeal. All parties were agreed it was a trifling offence.

Guard M. Vaughan stated he found the men in the private portion of the premises playing cards. The character of the house was good.

Mr. McMahon said the defendant was prepared to accept an increased fine if the endorsement was removed.

His Lordship said he would remove the endorsement, but the fine would stand.

DEATH OF MISS MOIRA KEYES

It is with deep regret we announce the death of Miss Moira Keyes, eldest daughter of Mr. Thomas and Mrs. Keyes, of Ballyneety Road, Limerick, and niece of Councillor M. J. Keyes, T.D. The deceased was employed as a saleslady at Messrs. Wm. Todd & Co., and was well known in sporting circles as a member of the Rathbane Tennis and Constitution Hockey Clubs. Some years ago she contracted a cold, from which she never fully recovered, and her death at an early age comes as a severe blow to her parents and a great shock to a large host of friends. The remains will be removed this (Wednesday) evening to St. John's Cathedral and the funeral will take place to-morrow (Thursday) to Mount St. Lawrence Cemetery at 3 p.m.

The Rathbane v. Institute hockey match, arranged for to-morrow, has been postponed owing to the death of Miss Keyes, sister of Mr. M. Keyes, hon. sec. of Rathbane Club.

DEATH SENTENCE

Samuel Morgan, a soldier, was sentenced to death at Liverpool to-day for the murder of a school girl.

Mr. Charles O'Malley, L.D.S., has returned to 4 Pery Square, Limerick.

Scheme canal at Clonlara to the intake at Clareville was largely a failure; that the pressure within the city area, especially in the suburbs, was too weak, and that the filtration system was far from perfect. What has been done in the meantime to remove all or any of these defects? That is a question the citizens would like to have answered. There is little use in creating a hub-bub if appropriate action is not taken by those in authority.

FORTHCOMING LECTURE

As may be seen from our advertising columns, the third of the Royal Dublin Society extension lectures will be given at the Municipal Technical Institute on Friday next, at 8 p.m. The subject of the lecture will be "Architecture During the Past Twenty Years," and the lecturer Mr. John O'Gorman, B.Arch., M.R.I.A.I.

Mr. O'Gorman is a practising architect in Dublin and is Hon. Secretary of the Royal Institute of the Architects of Ireland. He is becoming well-known as a rather provocative writer on architecture and kindred subjects, he has given a number of wireless talks and has taken part in dramatic and musical programmes on the radio. Under various pseudonyms he is a painter in water colours and has been an exhibitor at the Royal Hibernian Academy. He has travelled in several continental countries, the architectures of which he so vividly describes, praises and criticises. His lecture indeed should be a great treat.

IN MEN'S CLOTHES

When the wife of a labourer was charged at Abbeyfeale with the larceny of apples, bacon and other commodities, it was stated that she was dressed in men's clothes when she committed the robberies. She told the Court that her husband was out of work and they were very poor, and District Justice Kenny imposed a fine of 10/-, with 1/- compensation, and bound her over for three years in her own and her husband's bond.
