

received in an accident at Ennis Railway Station. On whose soul, Sweet Jesus, have mercy. Masses offered. One year has passed since we parted. From the boy we loved so well; How much he is missed amongst us, No tongue can ever tell. We mourn for him in silence, Not with outward show; For those who grieve sincerely, Mourn silently and low. The happy home we once enjoyed, How sweet his memory clings; His death has left a loneliness This world can never fill. It's hard to break the tender chords; That bind the human heart; It's hard, so hard, to speak the words: Must we for ever part? —Inserted by his loving mother, brother and sisters.
