

Smokers' 'Fur'

How to detect it—How to prevent it

Try this now. Run your tongue round your mouth—do you notice it?... a rough woolly feeling. Smokers' fur has got a hold, and is staining your teeth. But don't worry, you can stop this fur from ruining the look of your teeth.

Dentists know smokers' fur is caused by excess acid in the mouth. Kill the acid and you shift the fur. What is the scientific way to destroy mouth acid? 12,000 dentists say 'Milk of Magnesia' brand antacid is the most effective antacid known. They recommend smokers to use the toothpaste containing 'Milk of Magnesia'—the only toothpaste containing it—Phillips' Dental Magnesia.

Commence fighting mouth acid tonight. Get a tube of Phillips' Dental Magnesia and clean your teeth with it each night and morning. Then you'll feel the difference; no more morning mouth; no more stale breath. Instead you'll have teeth which look clean, feel clean, are clean; a sweet mouth to give new zest to smoking. A mouth that will say Good morning! and mean it.

ATHEA NOTES

(From Our Correspondent).

Obituary.

A widely regretted death which has occurred in the parish has been that of Mrs. Mary O'Connor, South Keale, at the venerable age of 74 years. Deceased, who was a fluent Irish speaker, was renowned throughout her native district for her good nature and innate kindness of heart; and it is no exaggeration to assert that her neighbours, young and old, sincerely grieve for her passing. Her whole life was remarkable for its industry and was exemplary in every respect. She was imbued with a simple, unquestioning faith in the power and goodness of the Almighty and her whole existence was based on that sublime belief.

An Excellent Neighbour.

She was ever the best of neighbours and with a deep sympathy for the sufferings or ills of others. She was always a cheery soul with a pleasant word for everybody and was devoted to her family. To her family at home and in the U.S.A. the sincere sympathy of the public is extended for the loss which they have sustained by the demise of this good and exemplary woman.

Another Death.

Another deeply regretted death, which occurred during the week-end, has been that of Mrs. Danaher, nee Butler, relict of the late Mr. John Danaher, of Athea. The deceased was a woman possessed of many sterling qualities and was a devoted wife and affectionate parent. Quiet and unobtrusive in her manner and amiable in her disposition, her happiness was always centered in her home and in her family circle. For some months past her health had been causing anxiety, and despite all that loving care and attention could accomplish the end came on Friday, 2nd inst. The heartfelt sympathy of the people of Athea is extended to the family of the deceased, both at home and abroad, in their sad bereavement.

KILMALLOCK NOTES

(From Our Correspondent)

Bare Pastures.

Although the time is here when vegetation should be very plentiful in our fields, and what should be on the grass, it is the scarcity of hay that is causing the farmer to put them there is very little growth. has pasture land been as bare first week of May. The drought is, of course, the trouble.

Turf Cutting.

If the want of hay is causing considerable loss to the farmer in Kilmallock district there is compensation for a great number of them who have turbarry on the bog on the former Trevelin estate, away over the slopes of the Corrin range of mountains. The weather never offered for tending and saving of the peat, and operations are being carried on with such a degree of industry as would indicate that even some women, are out there setting new records in production.

Good Road.

The Land Commission has done very little to the most fault-finding person to grumble about as it is for drawing home the bog that part of the bog which was inaccessible by a narrow path now linked up with the main road widened and put in good order. Turf of the best quality is being taken from any of the bogs are being worked and a good investment seems to be assured.

Phogues.

In a part of the country far from the town of Kilmallock a cottier called me one day to show what he found in his garden at a distance of some 75 yards from his cottage. Before showing me the "exhibit" he explained that he had opened drills for the purpose of putting in his seed potatoes. The ground was in such good condition he decided not to go to the
