Munster Feis.

The Munster Feis will be held in Foynes on Sunday, June 29th. It is the intention of the committee to run off the drama competitions beforehand, so as to leave more time for the others on Feis day. The senior dramas, for which a good number of entries have already been received, will probably take place on the Friday, thus Saturday will be free for the children's competitions. While all the events are of exceptional interest, the rivalry among the accordion players and the pipe players should be very keen. The mouth-organ will be another instrument to be featured and the whistling will be a highlight item. Lord Monteagle has presented a trophy for the Pipers' Band competition. In the dancing, a special section has been introduced to deal with those over twenty-two years of age.

Ceillidhe Mor.

To bring the day to a fitting finish a ceillidhe mor will be held in the New Hall for a first-class band has been engaged. In this connection it may be mentioned that the committee intend to run a practice ceildhe within the next few weeks. Copies of the Feis programme may be had from Doirin Ni Duibhginn, runaide, Coisde Conndae Luimnighe, Sraid Thomais a 18, Luimneach; or from Tomas deBhilliers, runaidhe na Feise, Seanagualainn.

Death.

Mr. James Cochrane, father of Mr. J. Cochrane, Barracks, Foynes, died in St. Michael's Hospital, Dun Laoghaire, on May 31st. He spent many years in Foynes as a member of the R.I.C. and was always well liked and respected. All his friends who knew him during his residence here years ago turned out to meet the funeral which arrived at Robertstown Church by road on Tuesday evening of last week. At noon the following day the interment took place at the family burial ground, Robertstown. The officiating clergy were Very Rev. Canon Rea, P.P., V.F.; Rev. Father Quinlan, C.C., and Rev. Father O'Byrne, C.C.

Farmers' Hopes.

Without being unduly sanguine local farmers are of opinion that there will be early meadows this season, and that new potatoes will be available early in July. Last month pastures were very bare owing to the hard state of the land and the presence of ground frost at night. That is all changed now however, and the fields are covered with a rich covering of succulent grass. The removal of cattle from the byres to the summer pastures should certainly put an end to a further outbreaks of foot-and-mouth disease.

DROMCOLLOGHER GOSSIP

(From Our Correspondent).

Corpus Christi.

The annual Corpus Christi procession for the parish will take place at Broadford on Sunday next. Annually this event provides a striking manifestation of faith and religious fervour and next Sunday's procession should provide no exception to those of previous years. The route will be the same as that taken on former years and the procession will move at 4 p.m. (old time).

Football Team.

On Sunday next at Ardara Dromcollogher take on Ballyvaughan in the opening round of junior football championship. In the present football cannot be said to be in too flourishing a state in the locality, while Ballyvaughan are counted as being one of the leading teams in the division. There are however some very useful players among the local selection and they can be counted on to give their more experienced opponents a right good game.

Minor Hurling.

A very interesting minor game was staged at Dromcollogher on Sunday last when a side drawn from the town engaged St. Muire, a team composed of students from the local secondary school. Some very nice bouts of play were witnessed and the game served as a useful try out preparatory to the selection of a minor team. The town selection proved too good for the students and emerged winners by a substantial margin.
