Bees Bring Luck.

A swarm of bees that located under an eave of the residence of Mr. H. Berry, at the corner of Main Street and the New Line, was an object of curiosity during the week-end until safely removed by an expert beek-keeper. According to tradition bees coming in a swarm bring luck to the household where they try to fix a new abode.

Still a Puzzle.

It is said that three things the great Aristotle failed to understand were—the ebb and flow of the tides, the work of the bees, and the mind of a woman. At least one of these still remains a puzzle to the wisest of philosophers.

KNOCKADERRY NOTES

(From Our Correspondent).

Obituary.

The death of Mr. John Power took place on Thursday of last week. He was of a very old stock in the parish and was a great favourite with everybody. He spent some years in Dromcollogher, where he endeared himself to all he came into contact with.

Very Intelligent.

A very intelligent man, he had a fine knowledge of the public affairs of this country since the days of the Repeal Movement. He was buried in Clounagh Cemetery on Friday and there was a large attendance at the funeral. Rev. Father O'Connor, P.P., and Rev. Father Boyce, C.C., officiated at the graveside.

Red Cross.

Miss Nellie Scanlan represented the local Branch of the Red Cross at a recent conference at Limerick. Knocklong Branch received congratulations on the great success of the flag day collection.

L.D.F. Inspection.

An inspection of the local unit of the L.D.F. was held by officers of the Forces at Knockaderry on Friday night last. The men were in charge of Mr. James Hickey, Section Leader, and there was a smart and efficient turn out by the members of the Section.

The Turf Scheme.

Owing to weather conditions there has been a slackening off in the activities of those engaged by the local Parish Council on the turf scheme, but farm work took the people's attention instead kind are doing well, having benefited considerably from the recent rainfall. There is a fairly large area under barley in the district this season. This attempt to grow this cereal in the district is purely experimental. If it is a success, and proves to be an economic proposition, it will probably be followed by revolutionary changes as cheaply grown barley will enable farmers to dispense with Indian meal.

KILMEEDY NOTES

(From Our Correspondent).

Congratulations.

Congratulations from city and county are extended to Mr. and Mrs. James Walsh, Chamber of Commerce, Limerick, on the elevation to the priesthood of their only son, now Rev. J. P. Walsh. The parishioners of Feenagh and Kilmeedy desire to be associated with the congratulations, in a special manner to Mrs. Walsh, whose maiden name was Miss Ellie Long, native of Clouncrippa, Feenagh.

Deeply Regretted.

The death occurred during the week-end of Mr. Michael Geary, Ballinruan, Kilmeedy, at a comparatively young age. The funeral from the Catholic Church, Kilmeedy, to the family burial ground at Castletown was of large dimensions. The death is also recorded, at an advanced age, of Mr. Patrick Walsh, Farran, Kilmeedy. The funeral from Feohanagh Church to Dromcollogher was most representative. R.I.P.

Rabbit Pest.

The only effective way to exterminate the rabbit pest is to pay a good price. At present rabbits, generally unsaleable at this period of the year, are fetching 1/- each for adults, and in many cities and towns young rabbits are commanding still a higher price. Consequently these undesirables are constantly "on the run" and farmers, formerly unable to protect their crops, are looking forward to a most plentiful harvest.

Junior Hurling.

At Knockaderry on Sunday next, under the auspices of the West Limerick junior hurling championship, Kilmeedy will meet Ardagh. The people here wish the home team the best of good luck.
