

On Friday evening last the remains were conveyed in a military lorry from Mallow to the Parish Church, Killaloe. Outside Ballina they were met by a large contingent; every household in the two parishes being represented. The coffin, which was draped with the Tricolour, was borne on the shoulders of his companions from Ballina to Killaloe Church.

The Interment.

The interment took place at the family burial ground on Friday. The Templemore Military Band, in charge of Lieutenants Collins and Halpin, attended. The funeral march, including "Wrap the Green Flag Round Me," was played en route from the church to the burial ground. Rev. M. O'Brien recited the prayers at the graveside. Three volleys were fired over the grave and the Last Post was sounded. To his sorrowing wife, children, parents, sister, brother and friends the deepest sympathy is offered in their bereavement.

Hurling Field.

Mr. Michael Flynn, Creeve Rua, has kindly placed a hurling field at the disposal of the Killaloe young hurlers and we have much pleasure in congratulating him for the generous gift. The young hurlers are now jubilant. They are seen at their practices every evening, and will, no doubt, give a good account of themselves in the near future.

CHARLEVILLE CINEMA

Darryl F. Zanuck's production of "The Grapes of Wrath" is the attraction on Sunday, 3rd August, for three days. It is a film of great dramatic force and is gripping, unforgettable entertainment. Deal with the struggle for the right to live, the film records with grim artistry the pitiful plight of the Oklahoma farmers, the human refuse of an extraordinary social order. It tells of the amazing trek of these people to a promised land, after the financiers had taken over their mortgaged lands. The story describes this migration in the terms of one family—the Joads, crossing desert and mountain in a broken-down old van, held together largely by hope, faith and charity. Tom Joad is played by Henry Fonda. Jane Darwell gives a great performance as Ma Joad. The supporting cast includes John Carradine, Charley Grapewin and Doris Bowdon. "The Grapes of Wrath" is a great film of a great novel. The supporting feature is "Legion of Lost Flyers."

The attraction on Wednesday, 6th August, for three days, is "The Australia, and back again—a distance of 30,000 miles, bearing an Eire twopenny stamp. Last January a lady residing at Carrick Road, Dundalk, posted a letter which was addressed to the local office of the E.S.B. in pillar-box. It contained a cheque for her account. Later the Board complained that no cheque had ever reached them, so the lady cancelled the first one and issued another. This week she was handed her original letter, with the explanation that it had just arrived from Melbourne.

RAILWAY COMPANY'S OFFER

An offer by the Company to pay £550 with costs was accepted by Mr. Ryan, K.C., official Arbitrator, when a claim came before the Railway Tribunal in Dublin on behalf of Daniel Tully, Carndonagh, for compensation for loss of employment as a result of the closing down of the Carndonagh extension of the Lough Swilly railway, on which he was employed as an engine driver. The Company's case was that Tully refused to accept alternative employment as a lorry driver.

BURIED WITH MILITARY HONOURS

Full military honours were accorded at the funeral of Private Terence Keane (19), Castleconnell, Co. Limerick, who died in Mallow Military Hospital. Deceased was son of Mr. and Mrs. John Keane, Castleconnell. The funeral took place from Mallow to Castleconnell Cemetery, followed by a large crowd of sympathisers. Rev. J. Fogarty, P.P., and Rev. T. Daffey, C.C., officiated.

NEW ZEALAND MUTTON IN ENGLAND

When Mr. Peter Fraser, New Zealand Premier, toured Liverpool Docks on Friday, he saw thousands of cases of mutton from his country being loaded into railway wagons. He chatted with dockers (says a Press Association message) and even took a turn at their job.

CANNED FOOD FOR BRITAIN

Canned meats are now arriving in Britain from America under the Lease and Lend Act, states the Press Association, and their prices have been controlled. An Ottawa message says that two-thirds of chosen for the highest honor could be conferred on different associations to which he belonged. He had been of the Typographical (Limerick Branch) Ranger of the Foresters and in each instance his wise judgment proved of value. He was a real, unostentatious Catholic life, being a jubliant member of the Fraternity of the Holy Spirit and a member of the Order of St. Francis. For many years he was employed as foreman in the Limerick Lumber Co. during all of which time he never even a moment incurred the reproach of a fellow-worker. He was a man of noble character, free of meanness or pettiness, and sorely missed by his colleagues, of whom retain splendid remembrance of his gentleness and kindness as an employer to the youngest staff there is left a last remembrance of a faithful friend. No claim to be more profuse in work and no man was more ready to lend a helping hand to those in need. He was loved and respected by all acquaintances and fellow-workers for the cause of his good heart and ready wit, and inseparably associated with both was an outlook of hope and hereafter. It is an expression to say that Mr. Keane was a superior man, though he was most humble in his passing causes a void which will be difficult to fill, because there are few, indeed, who are so good.

At the removal of the body from St. Michael's Church on Wednesday evening there was a large gathering of sympathisers present on Wednesday, when the body was taken to Mount Sion Cemetery from the church.

The clergy present were Father White, C.C., and Rev. J. O'Sullivan, C.C. (St. Michael's).

The chief mourners were Mrs. M. Ryan (widow), Mrs. J. Ryan (sister), John Ryan (brother), Ciarke and Thomas Andrews (brothers-in-law), Mrs. J. Ryan (sister-in-law), Mr. and Mrs. John Ryan, Michael Ryan, Hartney, B.C.; Philip Andrew, M. Ryan, Mrs. P. Andrew and Gera Eileen Andrew (cousins).

The general public included D. Bourke, T.D.; Mr. J. Bourke, T.D.; Ald. J. McInerney, Bourke, B.C.; E. B. Duggan, "Limerick Leader"; Cregan, Editor, do.; W. J. O'Donovan, do.; James O'Donovan, "Limerick Leader" Staff; of Court Sarsfield Fraternity; members of the Third Division; number of trades bodies
