

orrid Zone." Co-starring James Gurney, Ann Sheridan and Pat Brien, this picture is an exciting comedy drama set against the exotic tropical background of the South American banana country. In Sheridan, the red-headed beauty, is claimed to be the most beautiful girl in the world and combines dramatic acting talent opposite Warner's most popular star. Here, indeed, is film entertainment at its best, and on no account should this gala presentation be missed.

THE CARLTON

A spectacular attraction opens at the Carlton on Monday next, when Marlene Dietrich's latest Universal picture, "Bijou of the South Seas," comes for a six days stay. Our patrons will remember her magnificent performance in her come-back film, "Destry Rides Again," which was the talk of Limerick during its screening at this cinema. Now she is under contract to Universal Pictures and hopes to make many entertaining films for her old as well as new fans. Briefly the story of "Bijou of the South Seas" narrates the adventures of a cabaret artiste in a South Seas island. Replete with magnificent backgrounds, delightful music, hilarious comedy and terrific thrills, this presentation ranks high in the season's list of big attractions. Her husky voice is heard in many lilting numbers specially written for her. She is literally surrounded by a galaxy of established favourites, including John Wayne, Albert Dekker, Mischa Auer, Anna Lee, Billy Gilbert, Broderick Crawford and Oscar Homolka. "Bijou," has broken attendance records at every cinema in the country in which it has been shown and patrons are requested to avail of the early performances as much as possible to avoid disappointment. It is interesting to note that the picture was produced by Joe Pasternak, the man who gave you "Destry" and all the sensational Deanna Durbin pictures. A first-class programme of shorts will complete this outstanding show.

THE SAVOY

A picture as unusual as its title—that is the type of entertainment that will be presented to Savoy patrons on Monday next when "Here Comes Happiness" comes for three days. It would be unfair to divulge even the slightest hint as to what the story is about; suffice to say that it is one of Warner's tit-bits of the season and co-stars Russell Hicks and Mildred Deaux. On Thursday the pro-favourites old and new to surprise their many fans with new repertoires. Paddy O'Donoghue will once again grace the Savoy stage with his genial personality and wit. His "Bassoon" song at this theatre recently established him as a comedian of the first rank. Miss Peggy O'Halloran, the possessor of a voice of remarkable range and purity, will be heard in a selection of the latest "hits." This talented young lady has played "leads" in many local pantomimes and sketches, as well as appearing at many of the biggest concerts in Munster. The Legear School of dancing, whose faultless exhibitions have earned the unstinted applause of thousands of Savoy patrons, will appear in some new intriguing routines. An added attraction will be the first appearance of Christopher Lynch, a tenor from Rathkeale, who was the runner-up in the John McCormack singing competition. At the Compton organ, Norman Metcalfe will contribute another of his beautifully chosen recitals, destined to enthral all admirers of this mighty instrument. In addition to "Highlights of 1940" there will also be screen fare, details of which are in our film column.

OBITUARY

MR. P. LANE, ANNACOTTY.

The funeral of the late Mr. Patrick Lane, Rivers, Annacotty, which took place on Monday from Monaleen Parish Church, after Requiem Mass, to the family burial place, Gillogue, was representative of a very wide area. The deceased was a progressive farmer and his death has occasioned widespread regret and sorrow. He was a member of a highly popular family and deep sympathy is extended to the family in their bereavement.

The officiating clergy were—Rev. Michael Moloney, P.P., St. Patrick's; Rev. P. Godfrey, C.C., do.; Rev. J. Brassil, Adm., St. John's; Rev. W. Creed, C.C., do.; Rev. Dr. Cowper, C.C., St. Michael's.

SABOTAGE ?

A chemical store blew up, following an outbreak of fire in Copenhagen early yesterday, reports the Danish radio. Damage is estimated to be about 1,500,000 kronen. The police allege sabotage.

American city of Rio, Charlie comes up against his most baffling case, which abounds in tense scenes until the final fade-out. A to turn up last Sunday to fill inside forward position possibly lead to a drastic change by the club. The Limerick players were in a quandary last Sunday looking for a reserve, thinking Robinson was making the journey from Belfast with the Dublin players, and so fortunately the boy, R. Keane, took them over difficulties and saved them otherwise severely reprimanded the League authorities. It was the first time that the club had been "let down" in this fashion. Bagan was suspended last year for not reporting for duty after being granted a holiday. L. Drain was likewise some weeks ago and this latest offence. Surely the club, rebuked thrice, have learned a lesson of being too lenient to their players. A little tightening of the "reins" is needed.

Exploiting Local Talent.

Kevin Barry, up to a few years ago centre forward of the Limerick eleven, Wanderers, and now based in Dublin, did not catch the eyes of the Limerick selectors locally resident, and so the opportunity of exploiting his knowledge of the game in senior company was lost to him. A business appointment took him to the capital and George O'Connell, coach of Bohemians, was invited to sign him and he did so promptly. Result—Barry led a successful Bohemian XI in the Leinster League last Saturday and scored two goals. The feat thereby acquaints Limerick must possess many budding stars if only they receive adequate coaching. The brothers in the past have not done their worth in league football. The elder, Tom, was considered one of the greatest authorities on the game in our own county. His makings of a very clever wing back. Dundalk sponsors of the code thought "Meehawl" O'Connell, now of Wanderers, one of the custodians ever to guard the goal at Oriel Park, when Limerick two years back visited them. Doubtless there is an abundance of talent in Limerick if it is properly handled.

The "Reds" Are Coming.

Shelbourne's visit to Limerick Sunday next should provide a bumper attendance. At the moment the "Reds" are playing conventionally well and should have defeated the League leaders, United, last Saturday. Since the signing of the ex-Limerick defender Billy Meek, the Dubliner's division has become more potent and Limerick will find scoring of goals a difficult proposition. There is always keenness associated with the Limerick v.
