CHRISTMAS AMUSEMENTS

The various special amusements and sports fixtures held in Limerick during the Christmas holidays were very well patronised. The attendance at Greenpark race meeting on St. Stephen's Day broke all previous records, but there was a considerable falling off at the Saturday meeting. The different public dances were well attended, as is evidenced from the fact that over 1,500 were present at one held in the Bedford Rink on St. Stephen's night. The annual midnight concert at the Savoy Cinema was also packed to capacity and proved a most enjoyable function. As well as a number of talented local artistes, the contributors to the programme included Maire ni Scolaide, the well-known additional singer, and Miss Patricia Black, Dublin.

MANY ACCIDENTS IN CORK

Approximately twenty Christmas accidents, the largest number on record for a number of years, were attended this year by the ambulance men of the Cork Fire brigade. The majority of the accidents, either on Christmas Eve or Christmas morning, were of a minor nature, and most of those injured were allowed to return home after treatment at hospital.
In one instance, all the ambulances at both stations of the Fire Brigade were in use at the same time.

CAPTURED !

Carl Berger (23), six foot South African German who escaped at Breston, Lancs., on Monday from a party of aliens on their way, under escort, to an Isle of Man interment camp, was recaptured small hamlet in the Wirral, Che-by the Rev. J. O'Donnell, C.C., Par-teen (cousin), Rev. J. Houlihan,

On St. Stephen's Day, Chief Supt-

McKenna, as well as a large number of Guards were engaged actively in the Abbeyfeale East area and

RATHER UNIQUE.

The Justice said that the cir-stances of the case were unique. There seemed to small amount of negligence part of one of the men in no ing kept immediately close amount of negligence. There a good deal of traffic which the care which he should
