

Sad Deaths

Two Brothers Die In London

News has just reached Dublin of the deaths under tragic circumstances in London of Messrs Michael and John O'Connor, sons of the late Mr John O'Connor, a prominent cattle exporter, Ardvullen House, Kilmallock.

While details are not fully known, it appears that Michael died in Westminster Hospital on Saturday afternoon. John sent home a telegram acquainting relatives of the death, and his sisters—Mrs J W Mannix and Miss N O'Connor, Tritonville Road, Sandymount, Dublin—telegraphed him c/o G.P.O., where he was employed, asking for further particulars. That telegram did not reach him, for within five hours after Michael's death he was killed by the collapse of a wall in a London street. It is believed that at the time he was on his way to see what arrangements could be made for Michael's funeral.

The two brothers had been in England for some years. Another sister is Mrs J T Liston, Ballyhubba House, Rathluirc.
