

regrettable shooting accident at Loughgur. The late Mr. Hugh O'Donnell, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas River House, Grange, near Rev. Father John who in his student days was a noted inter-county hurler and the popular padre of the district. Early on Wednesday last week, in company with other sportsmen, Hugh was awaiting the matting of the geese from the distant feeling grounds. A black arose in the air in a flock of wings close to where the party lay concealed. O'Donnell was nearest to the gun which were still hardly in the shooting range for his own part of the other sportsmen were cutting his more powerful shot to him when the gun snapped down and the gunner, receiving the full force of the shot in his left forearm, a surgical examination later revealed that the arm had been shattered, and it was necessary to amputate the limb at the elbow. The unfortunate was deeply regretted in the district and especially in the Cross locality, where he was a man resides and where he was extremely popular with all his friends will be extended sympathy for his affliction, and also for the loss of a teacher who teaches in Grange and has a family of five children.

THE STORY OF '98

The 2 issue of "The Wolfe Tone Annual" specially features the story of '98. In this year's issue there are 144 pages, and the shops at ninepence, or by post from the publishers. Six copies will be sent to any one address for 10s, and this is a good opportunity for neighbours or friends to get a copy. The publisher is J. J. Higgins, 38 Upper O'Connell Street, Dublin. The "Annual" was ordered early: last year's issue was sold out in six weeks.

have visited the McNamara estate at Mount Russell (writes our Kilmallock correspondent) and it has been divided into suitable allotments amongst people in the district. The estate contains about 150 acres and Mrs. McNamara, widow of the late owner, has been allotted a portion with a new house and outoffices. There will be three further farms on which houses will also be erected and the remainder of the estate will be divided into allotments of about five acres each. The fencing of the plots is expected to be carried on immediately.

NEW MANAGER

CLOUNCAGH CREAMERY APPOINTMENT

Mr. T. McDonnell, manager of Monagea Creamery, was appointed manager of Clouncagh Creamery, rendered vacant by the resignation of Mr. D. O'Brien (writes our Knockaderry correspondent). Mr. O'Brien came to Clouncagh practically as a boy over half a century ago and had an unbroken period of service, a fact that surely constitutes a record in the creamery industry. A man of scrupulous integrity and impartiality in all his business dealings, Mr. O'Brien takes with him the best wishes of the community in his retirement.

DEATH OF MR. R. F. RYAN

We regret to announce the death of Mr. Robert Frewen Ryan, proprietor, Glentworth Hotel, Limerick, which took place this morning. The deceased, who was a member of a distinguished Co. Tipperary family, was an extremely popular citizen, and his demise will occasion profound regret and sorrow. Very deep sympathy is tendered to his widow and family in their bereavement.

FINED £30

Hugh Hague, spirit merchant, Clones, was fined £20, at Clones, for an excessive sale of tea, and £10 for not keeping records of sales.

LECTURE TO HELP WORTHY PROJECT

An illustrated lecture entitled "The Irish in the Argentine" will be delivered at the Grand Central Cinema at 8.30 on Sunday evening next by Rev. J. Hayes, C.C., Tipperary, founder of the Muintir na Tire Organisation. This lecture, illustrated by 100 lantern slides, deals with the great Eucharistic Congress held in the Argentine in 1934, and is in aid of Janesboro' Church Building Fund. Prices of admission:—Balcony, 2/-; ground floor, 1/-. Father Hayes is a fine speaker and his lecture is sure to be most entertaining and enlightening. This, coupled with the great worthiness of the object to be served, should attract a bumper house.

DAIRY APPOINTMENT.

Congratulations are extended to Miss Ellen Byrane, Brackile, on her recent appointment as Dairymaid at Oola Co-Operative Creamery (writes our Pallas correspondent). Miss Byrane, who was chosen from a large number of applicants, had been engaged as Dairymaid in Sligo previous to her appointment here. She received her early education at Brackile National School and later was a pupil at the Munster Institute, Cork, where she qualified for her position as Dairymaid. Her appointment is a very popular one and much appreciated in the district.

IRISH COAL SUPPLIES

Further steps have been taken to speed up production in Irish coal mines. It is learned that the I.T. and G.W. Union are making arrangements for the setting up of committees in the mining areas to confer with the managers. This follows the decision of the Government to amend its Standstill Order so as to permit the payment of a 10 per cent. increase, plus an attendance bonus of 1/- per shift, to coal mine workers.
