TO RODDY

—oo—

("Roddy the Rover," of the "Irish Press," always gives Shakespeare's Christian name as Liam; but, in recent issues, dealing with Homer, he calls him Dan—hence the query.)

If Liam Shakespeare is right, Roamer,

Should you not write of Donal

Will probably forgive you, Roddy.

The news of the transfer of J. Bowen, Manager of the Munster and Leinster Bank, Kilfinane Croom, Co. Limerick, has received here with feelings sorrow and regret (writes Kilfinane correspondent). Ever since arrival amongst us in 1935, Mr. Bowen took an active part in everything that was for the good of the people, town and country. In his capacity as manager his unfailing courrits for him the respect and confidin every sense of the word, and we are all sorry to hear of his departure, we wish himself, Bowen and family every success in his future life.

CITY 'BUS STOPS

(To the Editor, "Limerick, Leader") Dear Sir—Pending the arrival of formal 'bus stop signs, I like to suggest that a painter with a pot of white paint could in a few hours indicate the places where 'buses stand. People are being caused to very great inconvenience by the absence of any such indication.
I very much doubt whether the 'Bus Company are legally justified in acting as if the 'bus stops are so marked.
