

interest. Lynne Roberts, the songstress of "Romance of Rio Grande," lends her beauty and talent to this roistering comedy. The supporting feature is "Washing the Spy Ring," starring John Bellamy and Fay Wray. This is a lavishly produced film, rich in exciting action. Huge airplane crashes and carefully guarded gas laboratories, hospitals, government buildings, all back- and the swiftly paced narrative. Dangerous experiments with a newly developed poison gas are shown. The supporting cast includes Regis Toomey, Walter Kingsland and Ann Doran.

NOTED ACTOR

VISIT TO LIMERICK

Shakespearian lovers in particular, and followers of the drama in general, will welcome the visit of Mr. McMaster and company to the Coliseum Theatre, Limerick, this week. As a Shakespearian actor Mr. McMaster has long since earned universal praise for his magnificent interpretations of the Bard's immortal roles, and his selection some years back to play at the opening season of the Stratford-on-Avon Memorial Theatre was no more than an appropriate tribute to his genius. In his present repertoire Mr. McMaster includes two of his favourites, "Othello"—in which he plays his own most popular and possibly most distinguished performance—and "Hamlet." The splendid playing of the company on their recent visit in "Night Must Fall" provides anticipatory pleasure that they have included another play, "The Light of Heart," from the same author, Emlyn Williams, which opens this week. The list for the next few days of the week is as follows:—Tuesday, "The Two Mrs.rolls"; Wednesday, "Othello"; Thursday matinee, "Hamlet"; Thursday night, "Smilin' Through"; Friday, "The Light of Heart"; Saturday, "Lord Edward". (which has had such a successful run at the Coliseum Theatre, Dublin.
