

able in fortnightly rations country.

McNamara — Personally, I have very little faith in commis-anty—All we ask them to do is to take their hands off the Chairman said that the increase in the price of butter would involve an extra yield of 100 tons on the 8,000 tons of butter in storage at the time the new regulations came into force.

McCormack said that in view of the dairy farmers the increase in the price of milk should be retrospective as from 1st May.

Mr. Madden's resolution was unanimously adopted with an amendment asking the Government to reverse the increase in the price of milk retrospective from 1st May. Mr. O'Connell said that in his view the shortage of butter was due to the killing of calves a few weeks ago.

INGUISHED VISITORS

During the week (writes our correspondent) Miss Maureen Valera, daughter of Annette, and Lecturer on Botany at University College, Galway; Liam O Buachalla, a former President of the League, and U.C.G. Pro-secutor and his wife, Maire Ni Mairé, the popular traditional singer who frequently broadcasts on radio Athlone, visited Augh-foynes. They were the guests of Rev. Dr. Cowper, D.D., of St. Michael's, Limerick, and Mrs. J. Dundon, Aughtree. Mrs. Dundon is a sister of Rev. Dr. Cowper. The party remained a few days and fully enjoyed their visit.

RS OF NAZARETH OPEN JUNIORATE

With the permission of His Lordship the Most Reverend James Roche, Bishop of Cloyne, the Poor Sisters of Nazareth will open in this month of September a Juniorate at Park Quartertown, Mallow, for the reception of postulants for their vocation. Candidates for admission should please apply to the Mother Superior, Nazareth House, Hamlet, London, where the House of the Congregation is published.

TELL ON DADDY

American little boys who catch fathers being "cleaned out" by bookmakers or gamblers have been asked to report it to Mayor La Guardia of New York. He will remove them away, but will order the arrest of the bookmaker or gambler concerned. This action daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Browne, 4 Cathedral Villas, Limerick, was professed at the Convent of the Holy Child Jesus, Clifton Hill, Lancashire, on September 14th. With her were also professed Sister Mary Fintan Phelan (Borris-in-Ossory), Sister Mary Oliver White (Dublin), Sister Mary Lorenzo Lombard (Dublin), and Sister Mary Augusta Carroll (Devonshire).

Among the novices received on September 8th were Miss Brigid Grealy (Kiltimagh), Sister Mary Stephanie; Miss Brigid Connaughten (Longford), Sister Mary Kieran; Miss Mary McSwiney (Cork), Sister Mary Finbar; Miss Mary Cannon (Balbriggan), Sister Joseph Ann; Miss Kathleen McEntee (Cavan), Sister Brendan.

DIED AT HIS WORK

The death took place suddenly, while engaged at his work, of Mr. Patrick Mulcaire, farmer, Clonlehard (writes our Glin correspondent). Guards were immediately notified, but no inquest was deemed necessary, Dr. John Barrett, M.O., stating that death was due to natural causes. Deceased was son of the late Mr. Patrick Mulcaire, an extensive farmer, who was a P.L.G. of Glin Union in the eighties. Deepest sympathy is offered to his family.

BALLINA L.D.F.

The members of the Ballina L.D.F. got second place in efficiency tests organised by Nenagh District L.D.F. and Red Cross on Sunday last at Nenagh (writes our Killaloe correspondent). The commands were given in Irish and the Group was warmly congratulated on their return to Ballina.

TEACHING APPOINTMENTS

Mr. Sean Harnett, N.T., Meenakilly, has been promoted principal of Springmount National School, on the retirement of Mr. Joseph F. O. Kelly, N.T. Mr. John M. Curtin, N.T., Dromtrasna, has replaced Mr. Harnett at Meenakilly as assistant teacher.

HARVESTING BY NIGHT

Reapers, drawn by tractors with powerful headlights, are working on fine nights in South-East Wexford in an all-out effort to save the great harvest. Farmers in County Donegal are harvesting by night with the aid of lamps.

ALL-IRELAND HANDBALL

At the Depot Court on Sunday last A. Collins (Ballina) and J. Bergin (Sligo) beat L. Roe and A. Clarke (Dublin) by 3 games to 2.

ing of the pig industry was brought about by a food shortage but by the uneconomic price fix. Pigs were being sold at 95/- cwt. and the retail price was per lb.

Mr. Canty said that the Pigs and Bacon Commission should be abolished altogether. There was no need for the operations of this body. If the market was left free the industry would right itself. There was no use in blaming the bacon merchants for the price paid because these people would pay more if allowed.

Mr. Ryan said that he supported Mr. Canty's plea. He came from a pig rearing country—along the Cappamore mountain range—the other day he had to go to Nenagh to get a pig to put on "stand."

HAD FALLEN DOWN ON THE JOB.

Mr. McCormack—The Pigs and Bacon Commission should be scrapped. After a fair trial they have fallen down on their job and should be sent home.

Mr. Canty proposed that the Pigs and Bacon Commission be abolished and that the price for pigs be fixed at 140/- per cwt.

Mr. McCormack seconded and said that if the resolution were given effect to something practical would be done to save the industry.

The Chairman declared the resolution passed unanimously.

It was decided not to interfere with the premiums for boars on the proposition of Mr. McCormack the schemes as formulated were adopted.

FIRST RHEUMATISM CLINIC

The treatment of rheumatism in Ireland will have begun at the Rheumatism Institute's Clinic in Dublin within a month. Difficulties in securing apparatus had held up the project, but the clinic is now completely fitted. Each of at least fifteen distinct forms of the complaint will be studied in the institute and sufferers will have the benefit of hydro-therapeutic treatment.

POINTS TO A CENSOR

In the office of Censorship in Washington hangs a notice headed "A Censor Needs" followed by nine points: The eye of a hawk; the memory of an elephant; the nose of a bloodhound; the hearing of a lion; the vigilance of an owl; the voice of a dove; the sagacity of Solomon; the patience of Job; the imperturbability of the Sphinx.

INSURANCE POSITION.

Mr. Joseph Dore, son of Michael Dore, builder and tractor, and of Mrs. Dore, Glin, being appointed agent at Glin