Rathkeale Man's Death

While walking along the main street of the town, Cornelius Sheehan, aged about 65 years, of Back Place, Rathkeale, collapsed and died immediately after being removed to his home. Member of an old and highly esteemed West Limerick family, deceased was uncle of Mr. Patrick Roche, M.C., of the Rathkeale L.D.F. District Staff. Deceased was himself a member of the Force, and member of the L.D.F. accorded military honours as the funeral to the local cemetery.
