

Infantile Paralysis

Another Case Death

A child 18 months old in Longmeadow Street succumbed to infantile paralysis which developed with alarming rapidity, the respiratory organs being involved. Death took place before the child could be conveyed to the fever hospital.