
City Sudden Death

The wife and daughter of Mr James Henry Watling, aged 67 years, living at "Anton," Corbally, Limerick, suffered a severe shock on Monday morning when they found him dead seated in an armchair in the sittingroom. Mrs Watling and her daughter retired to bed on Sunday night, leaving Mr Watling in the sittingroom listening to the radio. When they came down on Monday morning at 7 30 o'clock they found him dead with the wireless turned on. Death was due to heart failure.
