LAY FOR HOURS UNDER BOMB DEBRIS Got Rheumatic Pains—and "Kruschenised" Them

Writing of her experiences in the heavy Nazi raids on London, Mrs. W. Haynes says:—"Bombed in those awful raids of some months ago, I spent many hours in a great pool of water under debris before I was rescued. Whether it was that complete soaking or not, I do not know, but after treatment in hospital for severe shock, I suffered pretty badly for months from rheumatism. Well, a friend of mine, who has taken Kruschen Salts for a long time, made such a point of my taking it that I did so. Slowly but surely the aches and pains grew less and less, and now I bless the day I Kruschenised. For at last I knew rest from pain. Do you wonder that, in my turn, I am now even more enthusiastic than my friend in saying 'Get Kruschen Salts' when I hear of anyone suffering from rheumatism."

(Mrs.) W. Haynes, London, N.W.I. There are thousands of people in Britain to-day who are doing as Mrs. Haynes did. At the first sign of rheumatic pains, they call in their old ally Kruschen to counter-attack. Kruschen has a double action. It is both laxative and diuretic. That's why it helps to clear excess uric acid from the system in a quick and natural way. If you're feeling the first twinges of rheumatism, get Kruschen without delay. Your Chemist sells it, price 1/9 per bottle.
