

over of deLac and Walsh is unexplainable. Shrewd judges were of the opinion that the former should have made the Irish team this year, and how the Munster Five could omit one of this year's Irish centres, S. Walsh, is to say the least "stranger than fiction." Further comments will appear in next week's notes.

TWO WEEKS OF "PANTO."

An announcement on page 1 of this issue states that St. Michael's Temperance and Choral Society will stage their annual pantomime, commencing on Monday next for two weeks. This eagerly awaited treat will surpass its predecessors in many respects, as was evidenced by the excellence of this week's rehearsals.

A grand cast of well-known performers, including many established "panto." favourites, have been assembled for "Jack the Giant-killer." The many delightful scenes are colourfully interspersed by tuneful songs and choruses; in fact, more so than ever before. This year, also, special lighting effects will add considerably to the production. Further details, prices, booking, times, etc., may be had by turning to advertisement at the foot of page one of this issue.

On the same night, at 8 o'clock, a bridge drive will be held at Cruise's Hotel under the same auspices. For further particulars see advertisement columns.

PRETTY WEDDING

A pretty wedding was solemnised in St. Munchin's Church, Limerick, on Tuesday last, 9th inst., when Mr. J. B. O'Meara, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. O'Meara, The Grange, Chapelizod, Co. Dublin, and Miss Sheila Carroll, youngest daughter of Mr. T. C. Carroll, P.C., and Mrs. Carroll, St. Rita's, Ennis Road, Limerick, were married by Rev. Fr. McCarthy, C.C.

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a very becoming nigger brown velvet coat over a blue frock, with fur toque to match. Subsequently a reception was held in the house of the bride's parents, and after an enjoyable morning the happy couple left for Dublin and the South of Ireland, where the honeymoon is being spent.

Mr. Frank O'Meara, brother of the bridegroom, was best man, and Miss Mary Welsh, neice of the bride, was bridesmaid.

MATHEMATICS IN COURT.

"The law will get a bad reputation for mathematics," remarked Judge T. O'Donnell at Limerick Circuit Court this morning, when he asked counsel to calculate the amount in a workmen's compensation case. Several minutes passed in quiet silence, disturbed only by the rustle of papers. Finally, one counsel mentioned a certain figure. "I have it already made up in my mind," said the Judge.
