

Mayor—When in Dublin recently I discussed this matter with the Department, and was informed that no objection would be raised to a part-time appointment, as suggested by Mr. Russell. The appointment must be made by the Vocational Committee.

Mr. Russell—Hundreds of people have spoken to me urging that this appointment be made. If anything is to be done it should be done without delay.

Manager—I will write to the Chief Vocational Education Officer in the morning and convey to him the information gleaned by the Mayor while in Dublin.

The matter was not further discussed.

UNEMPLOYMENT PROBLEM.

Another in the series of lectures organised by Muintir na Tire on the subject of unemployment will be delivered this evening, beginning at 8 o'clock, at the Grand Central Cinema by Professor Liam O Buacalla, University College, Galway. His address is entitled "Some Aspects of Ireland's Post-War Economic Problems." Professor O Buacalla was one of the lecturers during Rural Week.

LABOUR AND GENERAL ELECTION.

Mr. L. J. Duffy, Labour Party Secretary, has announced that the Party intend to nominate 85 candidates for the General Election.

position to pay it back.

Miss Mary Clancy, daughter of respondent, stated that she was present when Mrs. O'Brien handed the deposit receipt to her mother, and said:—"That's your property, now." She never heard any discussion about purchasing Hinchy's farm.

His Lordship said the plaintiff was claiming the return of her money, which was given as a loan for a definite purpose. He was satisfied on the evidence that Mrs. O'Brien did intend making a gift of the money to her nephew. He was also satisfied that she had the electricity installed for her own convenience and that at a later date she bought shares for her grand-nephew, George, as a gift to him. He was quite satisfied on the evidence that the defendant had not discharged the onus on her that the handing over of the money was not a gift, and in all the circumstances he would dismiss the appeal.

five or six years ago, when money was dear.

THE BOROUGH BOUNDARY.

The Mayor said that the loan issue was a very attractive proposition. Limerick was becoming a very progressive city, and he thought that the time had arrived when the Corporation should give serious consideration to the question of extending the borough boundary.

Mr. Donnellan—Go easy now.

The Mayor said that personal considerations should not enter into the question at all. Limerick was the third city in the country, and it was up to them to do everything possible to develop it. Limerick was a growing city and at present 10,000 people resided immediately on its confines. These people regarded themselves as citizens. They enjoyed all the city services, and he hoped that when the time came to move for an extension of the boundary these people would not oppose it. It was the people inside the boundary that would have to pay for the extension of the city services to the suburbs—sewers, water, concrete roads, etc.

The Manager suggested that the question of the boundary extension should be deferred until he was in a position to submit a report.

Mayor—Very well.

Mr. McGuire said he had no doubt that the Corporation stock issue would be quickly bought up. Despite the difficulties of the times Limerick was to-day the strongest city in Ireland.

Mr. O'Malley and other members having spoken in support of the flotation, it was decided to defer final consideration of the proposal to a special meeting on Tuesday evening next.

IRISH WHEAT PURCHASES

Members of the Irish Flour Millers' Association bought over two million barrels of wheat from Irish farmers last season, it was learned at the Association's Offices, Nassau Chambers, Dublin. At 50/- per barrel this represents payments to the farmer, of over £5,000,000. Considerable purchases were also made by smaller millers who are not members of the Association.
