DEATH OF MISS ANNA MARY HISHON

With very much regret we announce the death—which occurred in St. John's Hospital, Limerick, on yesterday—of Miss Anna Mary Hishon, elder daughter of Mr. Daniel O'B. Hishon, Craggard House, Shanagolden, and niece of Mrs. B. M. Kearney, formerly of The Crescent, Limerick. The deceased, who was about 22 years of age, possessed a great charm of manner and disposition. Cultured and refined, she was a lady of great ability and of most industrious habits. An expert horsewoman, she was a frequent and popular rider to Limerick Co. Hounds. Her demise at such an early age cuts short a life of great promise and usefulness and will be deeply and sincerely mourned by a very wide circle of friends and acquaintances. To her highly respected parents and numerous relatives we extend our very sincere sympathy on their bitter sorrow.

Requiem Mass for the repose of the soul of deceased will be offered up at 9.30 to-morrow (Saturday) morning at Shanagolden. The funeral will take place to the family burial ground same day at 1 o'clock (old time).

NEW LIME KIEN

It is reported here (writes our Killaloe correspondent) that a new lime kiln is about to be erected at Thornhill, near Birdhill, and that the North Tipperary Co. Council and the Ballina Parish Council are co-operating in the enterprise. The farming community would welcome such a project, which would be a great boon to them.

or summoned by anybody.

"You are a very poor supporter of the legal profession," remarked his Lordship, smilingly.

Witness—I never patronised them very much (laughter).

Roger Ryan gave evidence that he worked for Mr. Holmes after O'Sullivan had left and the crops were "as good, if not better, than any in the district.

"MOST UNUSUAL."

His Lordship said it was a most unusual form of action and he had never come across one like it before. He was satisfied that O'Sullivan was hired for 11 months and there was no term for a week's notice. He was also satisfied that plaintiff was a hot-tempered man and that there were frequent scenes between plaintiff and O'Sullivan, and he had come to the conclusion that O'Sullivan left as a result of the incident concerning the cleaning of the stables. He believed that O'Sullivan said he was going on May 29th and that Holmes told him he could get as good as him. That was a form of release and the defendant was legally entitled to hire him. Plaintiff, in his opinion, had lost nothing in law, and accordingly he would dismiss the action with costs.

General Costello was accompanied by high officers of his Division and by District Leader Michael Burke, Knockaderry. The parade was in charge of Platoon Leader Robert Burke, who led the platoon in the divisional test. General Costello and staff were afterwards entertained to dinner by the winning platoon.
