Clanship.

"Let other parishes remember that even when Ahane-Castreconnell hurlers could not defeat anything, still not one of them left their own club—although the best of them could have joined the best senior clubs in the city. I wish to emphasise and recommend this attitude.
I am behind a counter in the city and can hear country and city G.A.A. gossip. Every parish can do like my native district. Let them go and do likewise. I hope these few lines will suit your useful notes."

RIFLE TEST FOR L.D.F.

Knockaderry and CastleMahon Companies of the L.D.F. had their test at the range at Knockaderry on Sunday last. There was a good attendance and the Clouncagh side of Knockaderry Parish, where "Mick" Hennessy is such a very capable N.C.O., was also well represented. The members seemed to be quite cool and collected in their handling of the rifles and average marksmanship was good.
Military were in charge of the arrangements, and the District Staff was represented by Messrs.
M. Bourke and R. Nash.

TEACHERS' DANCE.

A most enjoyable function (writes our Dromcollogher correspondent) took place at the Parochial Hall on Sunday night last, when the local Branch of the I.N.T.O. ran a very successful dance in aid of the Widows' and Orphans' Fund. The dance was accorded generous patronage and the general arrangements were all that could be desired.

all that is required for the game is

CORK OPERATIC SOCIETY COMING

The Catholic Literary Institute have secured the services of the Cork Operatic Society for their concert at the Savoy Cinema, Limerick, on Sunday night next, 28th inst. Cyril Neville (tenor), Chris.
Sheehan (baritone), and Clarice Watson (soprano), who play the principal parts, have delighted Cork audiences in a record breaking success, and music lovers in Limerick will, we feel sure, avail of this opportunity of enjoying a real musical treat. Paddy O'Donoghue and Paddy O'Halloran will entertain the audience with excerpts from "Blood and Sand." Their reappearance is eagerly awaited.
Special arrangements of community singing, novelty dance numbers, etc., will lend added attraction to an otherwise delightful evening's entertainment.

NATIONAL TEACHERS AS IRISH TEACHERS

In districts where there is no teacher of Irish operating under the Committee, the Clare Vocational Education Committee (writes our Ennis correspondent) has decided to employ twelve national teachers possessing the bilingual certificate to teach Irish, singing and dancing for four to six hours per week at 4/6 per hour. Provision for their remuneration has been made in the annual estimate, and the County Executive of the I.N.T.O. will be requested to submit to the Committee the names of teachers competent and willing to carry out the duties.
The scheme has received the sanction of the Department of Education.

HUMAN ENCYCLOPAEDIA

Robert Nicholl, who has amazed the Pressmen of this country and of England, in his broadcasts from the B.B.C., Belfast, and quite recently from Radio Eireann, will perform at the Savoy Cinema next Sunday night, in the Catholic Literary Institute concert. He will answer any questions which the audience may ask regarding the names, dates and particulars of famous men and events. Questions may be handed in before Sunday to the Savoy or the Caholic Institute, and a number of money prizes will be given to those who submit questions which Mr. Nicholl may fail to answer.
