

Council will be held on Friday next for the purpose of electing a member to the office of Mayor for the ensuing year. The outgoing Mayor (Mr. James Duane, P.C.) is not seeking re-election and it is assumed that James Reidy, T.D., a member of the Progressive Group, will be elected. Though the names of other members of the Council are mentioned as likely candidates it is stated in municipal circles that Reidy will not be opposed.

UNEMPLOYED ABSORBED

At some time past (writes our local correspondent), almost all the unemployed in our midst were absorbed by the turf-cutting waterworks schemes, the B. and in roadmaking. To expedite the completion of the waterworks extra men, it is anticipated, will be required, and as the work is of supreme importance and vital for the well-being and health of the townspeople in particular, no effort should be spared to secure its speedy execution.

NEW P.C.

Mr. Michael J. Duane, Postmaster, Charleville, has been appointed a Peace Commissioner for the County of Cork and adjoining counties.

of speed which would keep it out of trouble, and eventually, to the accompaniment of cheers from the biggest crowd seen at the track so far this season, the badly battered and dishevelled-looking dummy ran to satisfaction. The remaining races were run off quickly, although the programme took an hour later than is customary to complete. An amusing feature of the incident was the bewilderment caused to local publicans, who usually have a rush hour when the "dogs" finish at 9.30 p.m. When their customers failed to put in an appearance they opined that their wagers must all have gone astray, but as a matter of fact it was not at all a bad night for the punters.

CURRENT CUT OFF.

During the week a number of electricity consumers in Charleville had their current cut off for exceeding their quotas.
