The O'Brien's Bridge Gardai are making investigations into a report concerning the alleged malicious maiming of a blood horse belonging to Mr. Patrick Rice, Whitehall, Parteen. The animal was grazing on lands at Islandregan, near Clonlara, and was found to be suffering from injuries of such a serious nature that it had to be destroyed. It is understood that the owner has lodged a claim with the Clare Co. Council for malicious damage.

DOUBLE BEREAVEMENT.

Deep regret (writes our Pallas correspondent) is felt in the district at the passing of two members of a well-known East Limerick family. Mrs. Mary O'Dwyer, Borna, died early on Monday morning, while her brother, Patrick O'Brien, Ballytarsna, survived her by only three days.

months imprisonment, with hard labour, not to take effect if the defendant was of good behaviour for two years, was recorded.

Senator Madden—The bacon industry was worth us £4,000,000 a year. After supplying needs of the home market we in former years a profit of a one and a half millions. It was a stigma on the administration of some Departments the decay which the bacon trade had suffered. To-day, we cannot get even a rasher of bacon for our breakfast added Senator Madden.

Chairman—What action do you propose to take in this matter?
Senator Madden—None whatever except to repudiate, even now, the interference of the Department which resulted in the ruin of the bacon trade.
 No action was taken.

Arising out of a letter received from the Department to the effect that the Department could not find its way to give a further supply of petrol to creameries, but that applications from individual creameries for extra allocations would be considered.

Mr. Quish said that the Department's action was disgraceful. Hackney drivers were given an extra supply of petrol. Many of these latter were putting coupons on the market as low as 10 shillings, while creameries had sufficient petrol to carry on.

sh Greyhound Laurels, Mr. Murphy's (Limerick) Shannon (Well-Squared--Second Row) was the first to lower the record, at 29.05. In a later heat of the classic, Mr. A. J. Proctor (Dublin) Robeen Printer (Deoc Deireannach) brought it down to 29.00. Two dogs did 29.15 and 29.12, respectively.
