

Death of Mr. M. Small

A popular figure in the commercial life of Limerick passed away on Sunday in Barrington's Hospital in the person of Mr Michael Small, Sand Mall. The deceased, who had been employed in the Dublin House for many years to his demise, was of a genial, kindly disposition, and was a great favourite with a wide circle of friends and acquaintances. Widely experienced in the drapery trade, he served in that business in a number of important centres, being held in the highest regard in each. He had been in poor health for a considerable time back, his illness taking a serious turn some days ago. To his bereaved widow and other relatives we extend our sincere sympathy in their sorrow. The funeral left Limerick at 7 o'clock on Monday evening for Cahir, Co Tipperary.
