

Military Funeral

The funeral of Corporal D Carolan, Passage West, Co. Cork, who died suddenly on the parade ground at Sarsfield Barracks, Limerick, took place on Saturday to his native place, with full military honours. The remains were escorted to the city boundary by a big detachment of troops, headed by the regimental pipers' band playing funeral marches. The coffin was borne on the shoulders of his comrades through the streets, and at the boundary was placed on a military tender, accompanied by a firing party.
