

Death of Mr John Kenny

The death in Dublin of Mr John Kenny, managing director Messrs John Kenny and Sons, building contractors, has been learned with regret in Limerick, where he carried on business for about 30 years. Deceased carried out many large building contracts in the city, and later transferred to Dublin, where amongst others he secured the contract for the extensive Marino housing scheme. He was well known in Limerick and highly respected for his integrity and efficiency.

He was married to a Limerick lady—Miss O'Dea—a daughter of Mrs O'Dea Ballinscurra, and the late George O'Dea, a leading Limerick business man more than a quarter of a century ago. A son—Mr Sean Kenny—is a brilliant barrister, while other members of the family are distinguishing themselves in commercial and industrial circles. We join with the general public in extending to the family in their bereavement deep and heartfelt sympathy.

The funeral, which was private, took place on Monday to Dean's Grange Cemetery, Dublin.
