

The death has occurred of Mr Timothy D McCoy, Duncaba House, Ardagh, co Limerick, a former well-known and esteemed member of the legal profession. The deceased successfully practised as a solicitor for a good many years up to the time of his retirement to take up farming on the home holding. For a period he was Registrar to the late County Court Judge Adams, who held him in very high regard. His brother—Mr Mathew D McCoy, who passed away some years ago—was also a prominent solicitor in Limerick, where he practised with the late Mr John Ryan.
