proposed a vote of sympathy, which was passed unanimously, to the relatives of his Lordship and to the local clergy.

The following resolution, proposed by Mr. Joseph Dodds and seconded by the Viscountess Adare, was passed:—"That the best thanks of the Branch be tendered to the lady collectors for their unselfish work, and to the Editors of the Limerick papers for their helpful co-operation in giving publicity to our work."

Before the meeting terminated, Lady Nash, O.B.E., as president, thanked the Mayor for his continued interest in the Society, and welcomed to their meeting for the first time Very Rev. Canon O'Neill, the new Parish Priest of St. Munchin's.

DEATH.

BARRY—May 16th, at her residence, 6 Lock Quay, Limerick, Mrs.
Bridget Barry. Deeply regretted.

spoken a lot about the infamy of one country trampling on the rights of neighbouring ones. He was always ready to see the iniquity of other nations but never that practised by his own. He roundly denounced Germany for its aggressiveness, but all the time carried on an active aggression against Ireland by keeping a grip on six of her Northern counties. Mr. de Valera may have something very useful and telling to say about this in his broadcast tonight from Radio Eireann.
Whether he refers to the matter or treats Mr. Churchill's impudent outburst with contempt—which he might do—the fact remains that the Border set up and maintained in this country by Britain is a deliberate and despicable crime against justice and the principles of democracy.
