

use, Kilkee. Mr. Lynch that the paying order for which was the purchase price premises, was forwarded to McMahon and Tweedy, for the vendors, on 21st last, to be held by them until conveyance has been executed by four trustees. The conveyance was executed by all the trustees on April 4th, and he (Mr.) was informed of this on 13th. The Council were then to their fee-simple interest in the premises and, consequently, not liable for any further rent until May last. The rent up to May has been paid and, in his opinion, the Council are not liable for the rent claimed to June 1st. On a letter of June 5th he informed the Council that the sum in question had been claimed and that, in his opinion, the Council were not liable for it and that he had so advised the solicitors for the trustees. When Mr. Neylon called to see him (Mr. Lynch) also informed him that the Council was liable and would not pay the appeared to have received rather violent blows on the face.

Sixmilebridge. had consulted them with reference to the loss he had sustained to his house and furniture by reason of the floods getting into the house, which was on the Corlea road. The flooding of this house, he said, would not have occurred if the roads and gullies were kept in order.

The Manager made an order referring the matter to the Acting County Engineer for a report.
