ANY LIVES FEARED LOST

unusually heavy swell and a current are believed to have a series of bathing deaths rgate.

Ballyagran districts was held at the Hall, Ballyagran, when it was de- cided to re-establish the club's annual fixture, which had lapsed for the past couple of seasons (writes our Ballyagran correspondent).

The following officers were appointed, viz.:—Chairman, Mr. John Watson; vice-chairman, Mr. M. Walsh; hon. treasurer, Mr. A. Watson (Milford); hon. secretary, Mr. Maurice Griffin. Ways and means of improving the club's financial position were discussed, and as a preliminary it was decided to hold a concert in aid early in October.

The new chairman is a nephew of the late Mr. Timothy Watson, who so ably occupied the position for many years, and his selection was a deserving tribute to the memory of one who did so much to promote the club's interests during his life long connection with it. The appointment of a working commit- tee was deferred to a later meeting.

SOUTH LIMERICK J.F. FINAL

The big attraction in G.A.A. circles for Sunday next will be the re-play of the South Limerick Junior Football Final between Kilfinane and Ballylanders at Elton (writes our Hospital corres- pondent). As a re-play and having regard to the great tussle between these two teams in the drawn game, a record crowd is expected. Both sides are confident of their ability to become South Limerick champions, and reports speak of hard training in both camps. Gen- eral opinion is that Kilfinane should do better on neutral ground and should therefore, about win, but Ballylanders will not accept defeat until the final whistle either sounds their victory or downfall, so that a thrilling game can be expected.

DIED AT RADIO

Patrick Carey (22), son of Mr. Michael Carey, Glenaree, Ballin- tubber, Ballylanders, collapsed and died while listening-in to the All- Ireland Hurling Final on Sunday (writes our Ballylanders correspon- dent). His remains were removed to Glenbrohane Church on Monday, and, after Office and High Mass, the interment took place in Ardpatrick Cemetery next day.
