

neat and orderly
the Templeglantine
ites our Abbeyfeale
is a credit to the ments Committee and assistance contributed Limerick Board of whole cemetery has complete change. All features have been grave plot has been
ed, a protection wall
cemetery all round,
footpath surrounds
a now. This elimin-ger to priests and attending interments.
lers of the parish,
burial plots, contri-
ur of men and horses, om the B.O.H. helped hat is now an under-sets an example for
to imitate in respect
ory of their deceased latives.

K MOTION AT IC CONGRESS

the Press were asked when a motion by the Board, N.A.C.A.I., askciations to be opened U.E., came up for dise annual Congress of
in Dublin yesterday.
elly-Lynch, Limerick,
as one of Munster's
s on the General
e N.A.C.A.I.

the weekly calf and for this year was ital on Friday of last ess was not very brisk
a fairly good demand for which the avers £4 10s.

present, but would help the housing shortage which is a long-felt want by many who are anxiously waiting accommodation.

This street is the first approach to our city from Dublin and what a horrible impression it must create in the minds of those who visit us for the first time. Surely such a state of things cannot continue if our members of the Corporation are energetic and show some practical interest in the prosperity of Limerick.

The name, too—Clare Street—cannot appeal very strongly to its inhabitants. Limerick owes nothing to the gentleman who gave it its name. For the benefit of those who don't know and probably care less he was father of the warrior whose statue unadorned Sarsfield Bridge some few years ago.

I do hope that the ratepayers' voice will be hearkened to by the Corporation. After all they pay the piper and have the right to insist that their views on anything that paves the way for the development or beautifying of their city should get every consideration.

Yours truly,

"PUSH ON LIMERICK," Limerick.—11/3/'45.

DEATHS.

DANFORD—March 11th, 1946, Margaret Danford, at her residence, 5 King's Island, Limerick, mother of the late Captain Michael Dan-ford, I.R.A. Funeral arrangements later.

KELLY—At his residence, 101 Carey's Road, Patrick Kelly (senr.).
Remains will be removed this (Monday) evening at 8 o'clock to St. Michael's Church. Funeral tomorrow (Tuesday) to Mount St.
Lawrence at 3 o'clock.

include "The Wor Bulletins Debunked"
taining article), "Co
Ambush and P
edition, and "All I Against Night Attac
"An Cosantoir" m at any newsagents, (e
from Alex Thom, 2 Dublin. In the even getting a copy you
write direct to th
Cosantoir," Departm
Parkgate, Dublin.

AN OLD LI JOURN

(To the Editor, "Lin

Dear Sir—It may
many readers to kn
a new independent
published in Limeri
and Thursdays and Limerick Times." T
edited by Mr. Jose
had a large circ
Times" was publis
Francis Street on a
was well printed.
Times" was later pu
gifted novelist, Ger appeared on Mond
and Friday. Some Gerald Griffin's poe
that journal, and appreciated.—Yours
JAM

According to an message from Me
Spanish Socialist
Indalecio Prieto, cla
"authoritative inf
Government heads negotiating for G
refuge in Eire.