

applauded, as was also the cornet soloist, Private Shields, Collins Barracks, Cork, for his rendering of "Macushla."

The concert was brought to a very successful conclusion by the massed choirs of Brislane Choral Society and the Franciscan Church Choir, conducted by Eamonn O Gallochobhair.

The drama competitions will open to-night with a presentation by Granagh Dramatic Society of "The Rugged Path" by George Shiels. Doors will open at 7.30. Curtain up at 8 o'clock.

POISONED SOUVENIRS

Poisoned arrows, obtained from Dykas, the headhunters of Borneo, and brought home by soldiers, are the latest danger to Australians, says a Reuter message from Melbourne. Melbourne University has issued a warning that there is no antidote for injury from one type of arrow, but artificial respiration, if applied immediately, may prevent fatal injuries from the others.
