LIMERICK MEN IN GREAT ER

de Paul Tobin, of St. John of pointed Prior of amullen, County home for men- Bro. Vincent is a k City (17 Don- Prospect). He from Rev. Bro. (also a Limerick ligan has been Master and will in the Novitiate er—House of St. Stillorgan. These e made during a rish-English Pro- der. held in the the Order, House d, Stillorgan, over or-General. Most n Blandeau, presiding, the Waterford Franciscan, he said, founded the two great Irish ecclesiastical colleges in Rome, one for the education of Irish Franciscans and the other for the education of the Irish secular clergy. The lecturer was convinced that the spirit of St. Francis was sorely needed in the world to-day—his preaching of penance to outweigh the modern tendency for indiscriminate pleasure, the spirit of charity amongst individuals and nations, the spirit of peace in the home and in the nations of the world.

SHOWN FOR FIRST TIME IN MID-AIR

A world premiere of a new film called "So Goes My Love," starring Don Ameche and Myrna Loy, was seen on a Pan American Constellation travelling at 300 m.p.h. at a height of five miles, between Gander and Rineanna on Saturday. American film critics travelling on the plane reviewed the film and wired back their critiques to their American journals from Rineanna.

WORLD-FAMOUS VIOLINIST AT RINEANNA

Yehudi Menuhin, the world-famous violinist, was at Rineanna on Saturday on his way from New York to London. While there he was fingering a small imitation violin fingerboard, which he always carries with him to continue finger practice. "I somehow wish I were stepping off here for a concert," he said. "The last and only time I was here in Ireland was about ten years ago, when I gave a concert at the Theatre Royal, Dublin. I found the Irish audience one of the most appreciative in the world. However, I am doing a concert in London in June, and after that I may be able to fit in Dublin."

MONSTER "45" DRIVE

We wish to direct attention to advertisement in this issue for the monster "45" drive which is being held in the Mechanics' Institute on to-morrow (Tuesday) night, commencing at 9 o'clock, for which £105 is offered in cash prizes and the scoring cards are 5/-. The proceeds are in aid of the Limerick Bacon Workers' Fund, and it is hoped that the drive will be well supported.

U.S. MINISTER LEAVES

Mr. David Gray, U.S. Minister to Ireland, and Mrs. Gray, who left Dublin on Saturday, will sail for America from Southampton to-morrow on the Queen Mary. Mr. Gray is going to Washington for consultation.
