

justly a system under which had to act as jurors, come long distances, leave their own business to suffer all sorts of inconvenience, and then have to do unpleasant jobs without getting a penny towards their out of pocket expenses. He would like to suggest to the authorities who had power to amend the law in this respect that this matter might be worthy of consideration, and that the services of jurors might be even more efficient if this very real grievance could be ameliorated in some degree in future.

Deeply regretted. R.I.P. Remains will be removed to St. Michael's Church this (Monday) evening at 9 o'clock. Funeral arrangements later.

SINGLETON—June 24th, 1946, at his residence, "Rockville," Ballysimon Road, Limerick, John Henry, beloved husband of Elizabeth Singleton. Deeply and deservedly regretted by his wife and family. Funeral on Wednesday from "Rockville" to St. Mary's Cathedral at 4 o'clock.

I heard the voice of Jesus say:

Come unto me and rest,

Lay down thy weary one, lay down

Thy head upon my breast.

Mr. O. Reane (interviewed P. J. O'Reilly) said Barry regretted the assault and expressed regret for it. His appeal against the sentence of imprisonment.

Mr. I. M. Houlihan, solicitor of the Lyonses had the nail off his finger and spent some time unable to work. The sentence made on them when going on a Sunday. On three occasions blood had been taken from them on their way to work and they were really sorry for this man. The sentence imposed by the District Court would enable them to go to Mass.

Judge Barra O Briain said it had been a bad assault. He would have given the conviction but varied the sentence to a suspensory sentence bound the defendant to good behavior for three years. He also ordered that Barry pay £5 compensation for the injury to the finger and

GRANTED NEW LICENCE

At the Clare Circuit on Friday, Mr. M. O'Loughlin of St., Ennistymon, was granted a new licence for premises known as The Victoria Hotel, Ennistymon.

In reply to Mr. G. O'Loughlin instructed by Mr. P. J. O'Reilly, Mr. O'Loughlin said he had not yet decided on the new name for the Hotel. He was well known in the golfing circles, having won the South of Ireland Championship five years in succession—and was expected to have a number of golfers staying in the Hotel, which he had expended some money to modernise it.
