OBITUARY

MRS. RONAN, MUNGRET.

The death of Mrs. Margaret Ronan, which occurred recently at her residence, Cahir Road, Mungret, removes from the parish one of its most respected residents. Her passing at an early age came as a severe shock to her sorrowing husband and family and to all who had the pleasure of knowing her. The popularity of the deceased was simply testified by the large concourse of sympathisers conveying her remains to Raheen Parish Church. Prominent among those present were the clergy and students of Mungret College. Solemn Requiem High Mass was celebrated by Rev. M. Connolly, C.C., assisted by Rev. P. O'Brien, S.J., deacon, and Rev. E. Punch, P.P., sub-deacon. In the choir were Very Rev. Father Kelly, S.J., Rector, Mungret College; Rev. Father Fackler, S.J., do.; Rev. Father J. Kelly, S.J., do.; Rev. Father Burke-Corbett, S.J., do.; Rev. Father McEvoy, S.J., do.; Rev. J. Laing, S.J., do.; Rev. Father Coffey, S.J., do., and Rev. Father E. Scantlebury, Birmingham. The funeral took place immediately afterwards to the family burial ground at Mungret. Rev. E. Punch, P.P., assisted by the above-named priests, officiated at the graveside. The chief mourners were—Patrick (husband); Tommy, Paddy, John, Martin and Michael (sons); Mrs. Moloney, Mrs. Ryan, Mrs. Nash, Mrs. Mullaney, Kitty, Theresa and Esther (daughters); Jim, Paddy and John Stokes (brothers); Mr. Considine (sister); M. MR. D. O'CONNOR, ABBEYFEALE The death of Mr. Daniel O'Connor, of Upper Main Street, Abbeyfeale, which occurred, in his 73rd year, after a couple of days illness, removes from the town a resident who was certainly regarded as one of its most esteemed citizens (writes our Abbeyfeale correspondent). For many years he was a faithful and trusted official of the G.P.O., and on retirement conducted a successful business in which he enjoyed the confidence and respect of numerous friends. Blessed with a humble, kindly, courteous nature, in which generosity took a leading part in his every-day life, his death was regretted by many as of a personal loss. Though of a retiring disposition, few in the town or parish commanded more respect and esteem, as was evident from the very large number who accompanied the remains to the parish church and also present at the interment next day in St. Mary's Cemetery. Numerous expressions of regret were conveyed to his bereaved wife and son, Mr. Patrick O'Connor, B.A., St. Ita's Secondary School, and other members of the family. Prayers at the graveside were read by the Very Rev. P. Canon Carroll, P.P., V.F.; Very Rev. R. A. Harnett, C.S.Sp., Kimmage Manor; Rev. P. Ruddle, P.P., Ardagh; Rev. Michael O'Kelly, C.C., Newcastle West; Rev. J. Liston, C.C.; Rev. J. Halpin, C.C.; Rev. D. Murphy, C.C.
