

MISSING

Mr. and Mrs. McCarthy, Quinpool, Ardnacrusha, near Limerick, are anxious to trace the whereabouts of their nine years old son, Patrick, who is missing from his home since Friday, 1st inst.

It appears that the boy, on that day, left his home to hear 12 o'clock Mass in Parteen Church, but nothing has been heard or seen of him since. He was wearing a grey short pants, grey pullover (with red stripes), a pair of rubber soled shoes, grey stockings (with tops turned down). He is dark skinned, with fair to brown hair, and brown eyes.

THEY WANT IT BOTH WAYS!

The British refuse to recognise the people of the Twenty-Six Counties as anything but British subjects. Yet they have decided to classify turkeys produced in this area as "foreign" and to pay only 4/4 per lb. for them trussed, as against 5/1 per lb. for birds produced in Britain and "Northern" Ireland!

PILOTLESS 'PLANES

Experiments with a number of the new rocket-propelled pilotless 'planes, known as the Vickers Transonic, will be made towards the end of this month. It is expected these aircraft will reach a speed of 800 miles an hour.

NEW SENATOR

An Taoiseach has nominated Lord Longford as member of Seanad Eireann in succession to the late Professor W. Magennis.

MISSING FROM LICENSED PREMISES

At a special Court at Newcastle West on Monday evening, Michael Donnoghue, described as of no fixed abode, was remanded in custody to the District Court, charged with the larceny of £11 and a cheque for £13 10s., the property of James D. O'Kelly, licensed trader and merchant, Upper Maiden Street, Newcastle West.

Accused had been taken into custody earlier in the day following a report to the Gardai that the money and cheque were missing from Mr. O'Kelly's premises.

Following investigations by the local Gardai, Donnoghue was taken into custody and charged as stated.

A second man also of the same class, who was suspected of being involved in the taking of the money, evaded arrest and was still being sought by the Guards up to the time of writing.

THE LATE GEORGE HARTY

The death of Mr. George Harty, late of Alston, Croom, who has died in Limerick, was felt keenly in Croom not only by his many friends there but by the general public, who at other times so often cheered his father's horses to victory over every racecourse in the South of Ireland (writes our Croom correspondent). George Harty, who in his young days was a most successful jockey, came of one of the greatest racing families in the county. May the sod lie lightly above him.

reinstating
and he re
contractor
continue p
tion.

RELEASE

Mrs Ma
now, Door
Circuit
against a imprisonme
the larceny
and hand
quarters of Judge B
sentence t ment and
this term
aid to ente
leased imm

CAIRDE

It is ve intending annual di
Cairde na
held in Cr
day night
reserve th
the commi
11th inst.
number m
the Rev. P
S.J.; the vi
the treasu
hon. secret
ner will be requested t

EX

At Galwa
Lican was f
by a penn
during the