
Clareman Drowned

Patrick Fahy (20) employed as a van driver by Lord Inchiquin, of Dromoland Castle, Newmarket-on-Fergus, was drowned on Sunday evening, at Ingoreek, where he went bathing. The river is tidal and he was carried beyond his depth. A companion saw him disappear, but being unable to swim could not go to his rescue.

Death from asphyxia was the inquest verdict.
