

County Fatality

Man's Death

A sad fatality is reported to have taken place at Patrickswell last evening, resulting in the death of a fairly advanced man named O'Brien, a labourer, and a native of the village. It appears that deceased was cycling home after attending a funeral at Lurriga, nearby, when he was struck by a lorry, receiving such injuries as caused his death almost immediately.
