 position under examination, I hope that increased jam supplies, together with a higher butter ration, will make it unnecessary.

In the case of dried fruits, it is anticipated that the quantities which will be available this year will be equivalent to a full normal year's supply, and I do not consider that the introduction of a rationing scheme is necessary or desirable.

THE LATE MRS. B. O'DOWD

The death occurred at her residence, 7, McNamara Terrace, Limerick, of Mrs. Bridget O'Dowd, widow of John O'Dowd, and mother of Rev. Patrick J. O'Dowd, Los Angeles. Deceased was of a very gentle and retiring disposition and her death, after a brief illness, came as a shock to her family and many friends.

Requiem High Mass was celebrated by the Rev. J. White, Adm.
 St. Michael's, assisted by Rev. M.
 Kelly, C.C., Newcastle West; Rev.
 R. O'Sullivan, C.C., St. Michael's; Rev. E. O'Dea, C.C., do.; Rev. T.
 Lyons, C.C., do.; Rev. Martin O'Donnell, C.C., do.; Rev. M. Minihan, C.C., do.; Rev. T. Loughnane, C.S.S.R., and Rev. J. Kerlin, C.S.S.R.

The funeral, which took place to Mount St. Lawrence Cemetery, was large and representative.

The chief mourners were—John O'Dowd (son); Miss May O'Dowd and Mrs. D. P. Kelly (daughters); D. P. Kelly (son-in-law), and Mrs.
 J. O'Dowd (daughter-in-law).

Rev. M. Kelly, C.C., officiated at the graveside.

potting on tomato soil. Wire worms are fond of the corms and a little naphthalene dusted around the corms as they are planted will keep them away.
