

E. M. HALPIN & CO., LIMERICK

WHOLESALE SUGAR DISTRIBUTORS
TEA IMPORTERS, BLENDERS AND PA

DEATH OF MRS. A. KING, CLOSING OF CREAN MISS

The death occurred at an advanced age on Thursday of last week of Mrs. Alice King, at her residence, Crean, Newcastle West. Member of a very old and esteemed West Limerick family, deceased, enjoyed the highest esteem and regard of a very wide circle of relatives and friends. She was mother of Mr. John J. King, Chief Officer of the Limerick Co. Council Public Health Department, Newcastle West, and of Mr. Jas. King, farmer, Crean, Newcastle West, to both of whom, as well as to the other members of the bereaved family, very sincere sympathy will be extended. The remains were removed to Monegae Church on Thursday evening and there was a striking demonstration of public sympathy at the funeral, which took place to the adjoining cemetery on Friday. All sections of public, professional and private life were represented in the exceptionally large attendance.

YOUNG FARMERS

EXECUTIVE FOR COUNTY LIMERICK

At a largely attended meeting of the various Young Farmers' Clubs of Co. Limerick held in

A congregation sacred edifice to St. Mary's Church Sunday night for the ceremonies of the Missions of the Most Holy Trinity Rathkeale corresponding included renewal of Vows, administering Blessing and Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament. The preacher, Rev. O.F.M., expressed his pleasure with the people of the parish by the splendid attendance at the morning Mass and the devotion and sermon. He was impressed by the attendances and those who approached to receive Communion at both morning and evening. In his closing words the Rev. Preacher dwelt on the dangers of Atheism, which is to the Church in other

THE COLOUR

(To the Editor, "Limerick")

Dear Sir—In your issue of the 10th inst. you published an article on the colour of cattle, if really wrong in its contents it seems strange that, things equal, there should be a very bad price may be given in quarters or even