

...considerable further argument, the Judge said he would decide the case on the basis that the only difference between total and partial dependency in this case was the Children's Allowances, the amount of which had not been specified in evidence. He would find all matters as conceded by the respondents—that the accident occurred as alleged, etc. He would not allow the full £600 but would award a total of £580, £199 4s. of which he would give to the widow, the remainder, £380 16s., to be apportioned in the statutory manner between the seven children.

GLIN.

The Feast of Corpus Christi was reverently observed as usual at Glin (writes our correspondent there). Large numbers received Holy Communion in honour of the great festival. After last Mass the usual procession of the Blessed Sacrament took place from the Parish Church by front Church St. and North Main St., and back to the Church. The processionists were headed by a cross bearer, followed by the pupils of the National and Secondary Schools in charge of their teachers; the women and men members of the Holy Family Confraternity, in charge of their prefects, reciting the Rosary; the pupils of St. Joseph's in charge of the Rev. Brother; the Children of Mary, and the Parish Choir. A number of little girls dressed in white, with wreaths and veils, strewed flowers before the Blessed Sacrament. The altar boys bore lighted lamps immediately before the Sacred Host, which was borne by Rev. Father Carroll, P.P., under a canopy supported by Messrs. M. Murray, D. Mangan, P. Shanahan and J. Loughnane. After the procession Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament was given by Rev. Fr. Carroll. Rev. Fr. Conyers, C.C., was M.C. The procession this year was the largest and most imposing one yet. The streets and houses en route were tastefully decorated (many with altars) with bunting, flowers and lights. Though rain threatened the weather conditions were good.

QUESTION

In the Dail on the 19th of May, Mr. D. J. Madden (F.G., West Limerick) asked the Minister for Industry and Commerce if he was aware of the fact that the residents of Ballingarry, Kilmeeady and Keenagh, County Limerick, live from six to eight miles from the nearest railway station, and if, having regard to this inconvenience, he will direct Coras Iompar Eireann to provide a bus service from Limerick at least twice weekly.

The Minister replied that he had been informed that there had never been a bus service to these areas. He did not consider that he would be justified in asking C.I.E. to examine the possibility of providing a new bus service, while he knew that C.I.E. is not yet in a position to restore certain of the services which were withdrawn during the emergency.
