

Justice told the Justice that there was a previous prosecution against Laurence Ryan's son.

NO BRAKING SYSTEM ON TRAILER.

Laurence Ryan said that he ordered brakes immediately after the first offence and it was with some difficulty that they had now secured these.

To Sergt. Connolly — Witness agreed that his son was before the Court last November on a similar summons.

The Justice said that the driver could hardly be blamed for the offence.

He imposed a nominal fine of 1s. on Egan and £3 on Ryan.

JEWELLERY THEFT

A FURTHER REMAND

The three youths involved in the theft of jewellery from the premises of Messrs. Irwin Bros., 22 Patrick Street, Limerick, were remanded for a further week in custody on an application having been made in the City District Court to-day by Sergt. Griffin.

Mr. M. B. O'Malley, solicitor, said that he was appearing for one of the defendants named O'Donnell, and his instructions were to apply for bail on his behalf.

Justice D. F. Gleeson said that the case was a very serious one and he could not in the circumstances grant bail.

Supt. Collieran suggested that depositions, which numbered about twelve, could be taken next Friday at the ordinary sitting of the Court. The Justice remanded the accused in custody for another week, and said that he would take depositions at the next sitting of the Court.

FAMOUS ACTRESS AT SHANNON AIRPORT

Miss Jennifer Jones, the famous film actress, landed at Shannon Airport at 3.30 this afternoon. She is from Los Angeles in a W.A. Constellation.

When she alighted from the plane (says our Airport Correspondent) Miss Jones decided that she is too exhausted to continue her journey to Zurich and asked T.W.A. to permit her to break the trip. This has been arranged and until Tuesday next Miss Jones will rest.

Our correspondent adds that she has accepted an invitation from the Limerick College Players to attend the production of their play, "Portrait of Miriam," in the Playhouse on Sunday night.

The lecturer, Mr. Kearney, is a member of the Legion in Cork.

Those present included Very Rev. Canon Hamilton, P.P., Newmarket-on-Fergus, and Rev. Fr. O'Donoghoe, C.C., do.

Very Rev. Canon Hamilton thanked Mr. Kearney for his wonderful lecture. He also thanked Col. Maher, Airport Manager; Mr. O'Regan, Catering Comptroller, and Mr. Supple, Customs Superintendent, for granting facilities for the holding of the lecture.

LIVED TO BE 108 PASSING OF GRAND OLD FIGURE

Mr. Michael Tuohy, Tuamgraney, Scariff, who died on Friday, 4th inst., at the advanced age of 108 years, was an interesting and grand personality (writes our Killaloe correspondent). He spent most of his years on Lough Derg, on boats plying from Athlone to Limerick. He had a clear recollection of the day the brothers McCormack were hanged at Nenagh. He was then about 17 years of age, and as the boat was nearing Mountshannon, he used to say, the sun darkened, with little or no visibility. The boatmen got very frightened, and after some time recited the Rosary for the repose of the departed souls of the McCormack brothers. The deceased enjoyed excellent health all through life and retained his faculties to the end.

He is the first member of the Company's staff in Ireland to win an award under the scheme the others having been won by personnel at Northolt. Mr. Cullen's device gives data on fares, excess baggage rates, departure and arrival times, and freight rates at a glance.

MARRIED IN UNITED STATES that he was in a hurry to leave the premises in O'Connell Street. He asked for the loan of the machine which Healy gave to him. However, the machine had been broken. The carpenters' tools were in a box in Mr. Raleigh's possession. The defendant, O'Donnell, went in and took out the key to Mr. Raleigh's place and opened it and went off with Mr. McKiernan's bicycle, which was stolen from outside licensed premises in the city, while O'Donnell also admitted going into the Limerick Boat Club.

Sergt. Hanrahan gave evidence to the Limerick Boat Club and said that there was an accident in the city on the night when the Limerick Boat Club was broken into. A window was forced open, a Venetian blind was cut and an entry effected into the club premises. The drawers in the premises were searched and nothing was taken, and none of the money had been recovered. O'Donnell was drunk in the licensed premises at the time, but the money was not touched. The defendant had made a statement admitting that he broke into the premises with Dillon.

"IN TROUBLE BEFORE"

Answering the Justice, O'Donnell said that O'Donnell had been in trouble before of a similar kind. He had been doing well for some time.

Replying to the Justice, Supt. Collieran said that there were no previous convictions—one each in 1942 and 1945—against O'Donnell.

Sergt. Hanrahan told the Justice that Michael O'Donnell was a painter by trade, but had been out of work and was living with his mother and two other brothers.

Justice—And he is a tradesman?

Sergeant Hanrahan—Yes.

Justice—In that event he should have no trouble in getting employment.

Witness said he advised the defendant to go to Dublin where he would get employment and it would help him to mend his ways.

Justice—Does he drink? O'Donnell started to take drink, which was the cause of bringing him back to his old ways.

The Justice at this stage dismissed O'Donnell with the charge against Dillon.

Michael O'Donnell gave evidence admitting that he broke into the Limerick Boat Club and said that he was with him, but he could not say which of them went in the window first. Witness did not take any money; neither did he see any
