

BILLIARDS

DROMCOLLOGHER CLUB

FINALS

The following are the final results of the billiards tournament promoted by the Dromcollogher Social Club:—

Semi-Finals (game to 200)—E. Noonan beat T. J. Geary (193), D. Lenihan beat J. Dore (191).

Final (game to 300)—D. Lenihan (plus 45) beat E. Noonan (minus 40) (290).

The final produced a thrilling struggle, with the winner taking an early lead with a score of 108 to 8 for the loser.

At this stage E. Noonan, the scratch man, improved his position considerably and closed in on the winner, when the score stood:—Lenihan (218), Noonan (212).

From this on it was touch and go, but D. Lenihan held on gamely to pass the post by the narrow margin of ten points.

Both are prominent members of the local Hurling Club, and with the loser a former winner of previous tournaments, both players have billiard medals to add to the many championship and tournament medals which they won on Gaelic fields.

this week, the weather was the same and the children had to face up to the same disappointment. These children are regular passengers on fine days in the 'bus, which waits for them.

Would the local Traffic Manager be good enough to explain why he allows the 'bus to be taken from the children on the days they need it most. If he thinks it fit to put the 'bus on another route on wet days, perhaps he would make such a statement so that parents may know.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for publication.

"A PARENT."

itself I'd drink it.

The publican gave similar evidence.

The Justice said there was nothing in the case which would justify a conviction. He accordingly dismissed it.

DEATH OF DR. EMMET

SCANLAN

The death of Dr. Emmet Scanlan, which occurred suddenly in Dublin, on March 31st, caused a profound shock when the sad news reached the parishes of Croagh and Rathkeale, where he spent his early years and was very popular. (writes our Rathkeale correspondent). Deceased was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Scanlan, Ballycannon, Croagh, both belonging to families well known and highly esteemed all over West Limerick. Dr. Scanlan's wife, who, before her marriage, was Miss Peggy Magner, a daughter of Mrs. Magner and the late Dr. T. Magner, is left with two children to mourn his loss. Very sincere and widespread sympathy is extended to the bereaved in their sorrow.

The remains were brought to St. Mary's Church, Rathkeale, on Saturday and the funeral, which was extremely large, took place to the New Cemetery, Rathkeale, on Sunday.

The officiating clergy were:—Very Rev. Canon Carroll, P.P., V.F.; Very Rev. Canon Murphy, P.P.; Rev. M. O'Grady, P.P.; Rev. T. Costello, C.C.; Rev. G. Enright, C.C., and Rev. P. O'Dea, C.C.

VOCATIONS

The Little Company of Mary, the Nursing Order of Sisters whose work is well known in Ireland, are now re-opening the Novitiate in the General House of the Order, at 6 San Stefano Rotondo, Rome. Young Girls desirous of dedicating their lives to God in the apostolate as nursing sisters should apply to the Superioress at the above address, or at St. John's Hospital, Limerick.