

largest in Limerick, will be under new management, whose sole aim will be to cater for all tastes with first-class entertainment.

* * *

Arrangements may be made to improve the quality of Sunday night films if the moves contemplated by one cinema are followed by the other houses.

* * *

On Saturday next the Savoy projectors will run their last film for some time to come. On Monday, the super variety season will open with Jimmy O'Dea and full company, to be followed on the succeeding weeks with artistes from England and the Continent.

* * *

Carlton manager Jimmy Wilson tells me that he has a number of excellent revivals due for early screening, as well as some of the season's newest offerings.

* * *

So far the "still" cases outside the Royal Cinema have not been used for the exhibition of "stills." I hear that when they are ready they will be most unusual in design and colour.

* * *

This week marks one of the rare occasions when the Coliseum will run a film for three nights.

* * *

Lyric manager John R. Bools tells me that the kiosk which he designed and erected himself is proving very popular with patrons. The young lady behind the counter has a big selection of chocolates and cigarettes.

SOCCER

Limerick Let Down Supporters

"BOHS" ADVANCE IN CUP

Bohemians 2
Limerick 1

WELL, Limerick, you've disappointed the biggest flock of supporters ever to visit the Markets Field in recent years. We felt sure you had the beating of that poor Bohemian team, and you confirmed this opinion of ours in the first half and early in the second half, at which periods you were definitely worth at least three scores. You shouldn't have needed even that missed spot kick to eliminate the "Gypsies," and if you had only drawn, then we should have no doubt whatsoever that with a few positional changes you would have come out best in the re-play. So much for the post-mortem, but why it is necessary is another story.

A feature of yesterday's game was the unquestionable decisions of the Yorkshire referee, Mr. Seymour, and neither team can have any complaints in this direction.

Limerick, after being on top from the kick-off, got their only score, per Neilan, after 20 minutes. Before their supporters could relish the fact that they were ahead, Bohemians ran right through from Union he should become a member of. Strikes, taken to force a man to belong to a particular Union are strikes against the individual rights of every citizen of the Republic."

INQUEST ON CHILD

STATE PATHOLOGIST'S EVIDENCE

Extreme violence was necessary to cause the injuries from which Penelope Willoughby died, State Pathologist Dr. McGrath told an inquest in Dublin to-day into 4½ year-old Penelope's death.

The child's body was found in the side lane of a neighbour's house at Devlin Road, Templeogue, over the week-end.

Dr. McGrath said that death had been caused by shock and haemorrhage. Death, he thought, took place last Thursday. There were scrapes and bruises on the knees, legs and trunk. Injuries had been violent to cause death.

When the coroner was told that a person had been charged with murder arising out of the child's death, he discharged the jury and closed the inquest.

DIED ON WAY TO LIMERICK

BANK MANAGER PASSES AWAY

While motoring to Limerick to-day, Mr. John J. O'Regan, Manager of the Newcastle West Branch of the Munster and Leinster Bank, got a sudden seizure and died in a short time. A native of Cork City, Mr. O'Regan was manager at Newcastle West for the past six years. Prominently associated with sporting activities, and very popular in banking circles, he was held in the highest regard by a very wide circle of friends and acquaintances. He leaves a wife and three daughters to mourn his loss, and to them and the other bereaved relatives and friends we extend our very sincere sympathy. The remains of the deceased are at present in St. John's Hospital, Limerick.

CHILD AILMENT

Early Recognition Essential

bull was in too poor a condition to be presented for inspection and the animal was subsequently sold.

The Justice said that in view of the defendant's truthfulness he would allow him off with a fine of 5/-

FALSE PRETENCES.

Thomas Ahearne (31), farm labourer, Glenistar, Ardagh, was charged with obtaining two sums of £2 each by false pretences from Mrs. Kathleen Hourigan, Well Lane, Rathkeale, and Richard Moone, Maiden St., Newcastle West.

Supt. J. J. Cooney, Adare, prosecuted, and the defendant was represented by Mr. M. F. Noonan (Messrs. Liston & Co., solicitors), who admitted the offences, and said the amounts involved had been paid back to the parties concerned.

Supt. Cooney said that defendant obtained the money from Mrs. Hourigan on 18th January by pretending that he was a cattle dealer from Abbeyfeale and that he wanted the money to pay "earnest" on cattle he had bought locally and which he intended to put into her husband's yard until they were called for by lorry later. At first she was not inclined to give him money, but he persisted and said he knew her husband, who was a cattle dealer and was away from home at the time. Eventually she gave him £2, and when her husband later discovered what had happened he reported the matter to the Guards. Defendant, when subsequently interviewed, admitted the offence, and the money had since been paid back.

SECOND CHARGE.

In the second charge, defendant went to Mr. Moone on 23rd December, and represented himself as a Mr. James Dillane, who had arranged to treat an injured heifer for Mr. Moone. Defendant told Mr. Moone that his car was being repaired at a local garage and that he wanted a loan of £2 as he had accidentally left home without money. As a result Mr. Moone gave the defendant £2, and he did not discover the offence until Mr. Dillane actually called on him a few days later.

Guard Whelan, Ardagh, proved a statement by the defendant, in which he admitted both charges, and said that in both cases the money had been paid back.

Sergeant Kirk, Rathkeale, proved a further statement, in which defendant said he obtained the money from Mrs. Hourigan because he wanted it for drink.

Mr. Noonan pleading for leniency, said there was nothing previously against the defendant, who did not apparently appreciate the seriousness of the offences.

The Justice imposed a suspensory sentence of three months on each of the two charges, not to be enforced if the defendant kept the peace for twelve months. If the defendant came before the Court in the meantime he would go to prison for twelve months.

UNTAXED LORRY.

Ed. Fossett, circus proprietor, of Ballybeg House, Ballyglass, Tinahilly Co. Wicklow was summoned