There is a road called remembrance; Where thoughts and wishes meet. We take that road to-day, To a mother we cannot greet. To those who have a mother, Cherish her with care. For you'll never miss your mother, 'Till you see her vacant chair. Just when her life was brightest, Ciss's happiest days, Her life on earth was ended by fate's mysterious ways, How wondrous are the ways of God To pass the frail and old, And take the young and beautiful, The choicest of the fold. —Inserted by their ever heart-broken family.
