DROWNED IN BOG

KILDIMO MAN'S TRAGIC END

John Mann (55), labourer, Kildimo, was found drowned in Sheehy's Bog, Ballycasey, about half a mile from his home, on 19th inst. (writes our Adare correspondent).

An inquest was held by Dr. E. J. Clery, Coroner for East Limerick.

Mr. George Wallace was foreman and a verdict of death due to asphyxia by drowning was returned.

Much sympathy is felt for the widow and family in their sad bereavement.

KNOCKADERRY GAELIC LEAGUE

The members of Knockaderry Branch of the Gaelic League held the language collection at Knockaderry on Sunday last and there was a very generous response, an increase of over 20 per cent. on the last collection made in the parish.

Mr. Hickey, the Irish teacher, is very pleased with the attendance at his classes on Tuesday and Saturday nights.
