

religious one—a day of prayer and a special exposition of the Blessed Sacrament in the little Convent chapel. Still, in their simple celebrations, they must have experienced a profound consolation in the knowledge that their joy on the occasion was shared by the parishioners, and particularly by the parents and children of the parish to whom these nuns have always been the good and dutiful Sisters of Mercy.

ENTERPRISING COURSING CLUB

The members of the Galbally Coursing Club (writes our Galbally correspondent) are to be congratulated in the recent repairs which they have carried out to their dance hall at Galbally. With the help of the local townspeople and other enthusiasts a considerable sum of money was raised by way of loan from local people, which will be interest free. A new maple floor has been laid down by competent tradesmen, new cloak-rooms and toilets have been erected by the members of the Club, who have worked day and night for the past six weeks to ensure that everything will be in apple-pie order for their opening dance, which will be held on May 7th.

Lloyd George, Hamar Greenwood, General Macready and to the British Attorney General and at the special request of the late General Michael Collins, an original of the appeal was also sent to him. The British authorities duly acknowledged the document and in writing promised that every consideration would be given to the appeal when the sentence came up for confirmation. Deceased's second son, John McGrath, junr., was prominently identified with the Republican, and Labour movements and was interned in Limerick prison, Clonmel, Kilkenny, Newbridge and Curragh Camp, and was seriously injured in escaping early in 1922.

RATHKEALE HOUSING NEEDS

Mr. Keyes, Minister for Local Government, told Donnchadh O Briain (F.F.) in the Dail that he was not aware that there was still an acute shortage of houses in Rathkeale. He understood that for the 28 houses completed by the Council last year sixty-five applications were received and that the majority of the unsuccessful applicants were originally considered ineligible, or did not proceed with their applications. The provision of more houses was a matter for consideration by the local authority in the first instance.

AS the beauty of a painting is enhanced by its craftsmanship so is a hand-printed Head-Square by "GAYTONE" so much superior to others. "GAYTONE" offers you the finest designs, the richest colours, the highest quality cloths to choose from and they are so very reasonable—14/11d. to 16/11d. each—they can be seen at all better shops and remember there are Handkerchiefs to match.

The vital years

NEAVE'S is the nourishing food needed by the very young to lay a sound foundation of body strength and vitality for later years. It is appetising, and easy to digest. Babies take to it instantly and thrive quickly, getting over teething and weaning periods without danger or fuss. Invalids and growing children, too, will benefit from a nightly sleep-inducing cup of Neave's. Try them with it!
