

ANE BEATEN
Senior Hurling
KADERRY'S GREAT
WIN

Knockaderry, 4-3; Ahane, 2-2. na, 1-2; Carrickerry, 1-2.

KADERRY added to their pride on Sunday, when in one of a very large and festive gathering they well deserved but hard-won over Ahane in the local hurling tournament (writes reporter at Newcastle West). Knockaderry proved one of the biggest attractions of the season in Limerick, and the local G.A.A. to be congratulated on the the fixture and the excellence of the field and other areas. Some fifteen hundred patronised the game, as a hard-fought and match, with plenty of hurling, despite a heavy flowing recent games.

ES OLD DASH AND

VIGOUR

they fielded a very reliable selection and played the dash and vigour of days. Ahane suffered their defeat within a week.
 They put up a fine against a Knockaderry that should make a bold honour in the current County Senior Hurling ship. Hero of the day grand old veteran, Mick whose exhibition recalled days of Limerick hurling was given a great ovation w. The issue was open half time when the win-ending by a point on the 3 to 2-2. In the second interval continued to pile ritable lead and although continued to fight back.

Knockaderry finished by big margin to spare. individual exhibition of the given in the Knockaderry by young Frank whose spectacular saves of the game. After
 Rev. M. Kelly, C.C., of the Newcastle West
 b. presented the mem-Knockaderry team with silver cups offered arnament. By way of a Atha No. 2 and provided a very exciter in the opening round Limerick Junior Foot-ship. After a suc-lls the game ended in a

SENIOR GAME carry broke away from in the senior game before Ahane realised happening. Jim Danaher visiting defence for a for the winners. En-by this early success, kept up the pressure acey relieved the situ-one of his famous nces. Play then veered end where, despite fine work by Dave Quirke, over a point from a shot by Cooke.
 wed the offensive with on and Frank Wallace.

Knockaderry citadel rapid succession before Burns paved the way for hane point. Con Crowley remained Knockaderry at the delivery and two Sheehey followed for
 s. Shortly afterwards players caught the Ahane hoping for a further goal.
 Mick Mackey cleared or a great Ahane goal. interval, Ahane reduced lead to a single point.
 Enright and O'Conin a determined offen-half-time the issue was with the scores—Knocka-Ahane, 2-2.

COND HALF
 resumption, Ahane virmed the Knockaderry lines but the winners' out and at the other end with one of his numerdirected drives, added a al for the winners. Jim followed up with a fur-aderry goal. In ensuing Knockaderry defence

A NOTED GAEL
Passes Away Down
Under
A POPULAR BALLYAGRAM

FIGURE

WHEN at Ballyagran church prayers were requested for the soul of Dan O'Connell, who died in Australia, many of us older members of the congregation breathed a heart-felt prayer for his eternal repose (writes our Ballya-gran correspondent). Our memories travelled back over the years to the genial, good humoured, popular Dan, who was a tower of strength to the home hurling team, under the captainship of Mick Clifford, who, by the way, is still as energetic as a young fellow, and though his grand-children are increasing doesn't look a bit grand-fatherly.

Born at Gortroe, Castletown, Dan early practised athletics with his next neighbour, J. J. Bresnahan, later to become one of the greatest all-round athletes in the world.

AN ADEPT AT THE CAMAN.

Dan did not follow athletics seriously, but early showed a great taste for hurling and soon proved himself an adept at the caman. He with Clifford, Gibbons, Barry and Larry Roche, did yeoman service for the county team. I remember meeting them in Dublin in 1905, on their way to London, to play the London Irish. Dan was the life of the party. A most dependable back, Dan had a peculiar but very successful way of outwitting a forward. A lightning catch overhead with the right, a fast turn and a beautiful long drive from the left often irritated a forward, but Dan's genial smile was irresistible and soon righted matters.

HECTIC STRUGGLES.

Old hurlers chatting of him refer to two hectic struggles between the home team and Bally-hea, one of Cork's best teams: one in which he worked like a trojan to level up when a point behind. I can see his face as the whistle went.
 How he longed for five minutes more! But the old smile came back as he called out to Clifford—"There will be another day, Mick, and another dinner."

The "other day" came soon, when Ballyagran and Ballyhea met for the final of Rath Luirc tournament.
 Dan was out on his own that day and defended gloriously against some of Cork's best forwards. He was delighted with our win by a narrow margin. As he shook hands with the forward he laughed and said—"We are even now, but we must have another little match to decide things"; and the crack forward of Cork, though disappointed, laughed heartily.

TOOK UP HURLING IN AUSTRALIA.

Dan left for Concord, Sydney, in 1912. He at once took up hurling there, and proved his value in many a hard-fought field in the twenties.
 He represented N.S.W. against Victoria in many hectic struggles for State supremacy. In 1924, he formed a hurling club in Concord, and was first captain and later organiser until shortly before his death.

He succeeded in the land of his adoption but never forgot the land of his birth. He made a large circle of friends to whom his house was always open. He was open-hearted, always a good friend to those less fortunate than himself. Many of them had reason to regret the passing of the genial, good-natured Dan.

BIG FUNERAL.

His funeral to Field of Mars, Ryde, after Requiem Mass, was attended by a great crowd of Irish people and Concord parishioners. A guard of honour of I.N.A. stood in silence as the coffin, wrapped in the Tricolour, was laid in the grave.
 Rev. Fathers Bond, Vaughan, Carr, Doyle and O'Rourke officiated.— Ar deis te go raibh anam.

GAELDOM AND ITS CONCER

News And Views Of The Week

"CAMAN" DO SCRIOBH

Dates You Want To Remember.

THE big match season is at hand and readers might like to keep a list of the important fixtures, so here they are:

Munster Championships — Senior and Minor Hurling — Limerick v.
 Tipperary (All Ireland champions), at Limerick Gaelic Grounds, June 18th; Cork v. Waterford, at Thur-les, June 25th. Clare play the winners of the Limerick-Tipperary tie in the semi-finals, on July 9th. The Munster finals take place on July 23rd. This year the Southern winners play Galway, the date being August 13th. The All Ireland Final will be played on September 2nd.

Thomond Tournament Semi-Finals, at Limerick Gaelic Grounds on May 14th—Clare v. Tipperary; Limerick v. Cork. The final is fixed for July 16th.

The Munster Junior Hurling and Football Championship games — Limerick v. Waterford — will be played at Kilmallock on May 21st.
 In Minor Football, Limerick play Tipperary, in Tipperary Town, on May 28th.

Important ties in the next round of the Limerick Senior Hurling Championship are:

Sunday, May 28th, at Adare — City Gaels v. Knockaderry; Treaty-Sarsfield v. Dromcollogher. At Caherconlish, Ahane v. Geraldines.

Sunday, July 2nd, at Limerick Gaelic Grounds — Emmets v. St.
 Patrick's.

Senior Football Championship fixtures are:

St. Malo's v. Pallasgreen, at Hospital, June 4th; 12th Battalion v.
 Treaty-Sarsfield, at Limerick Gaelic Grounds, June 11th; C.I.E.
 v. Cloughaun, at Limerick Gaelic Grounds, July 2nd.

Limerick Teams For Munster Championships.

The Shannonside junior hurling team to play Waterford, at Kilmallock, on May 21st, was announced on Saturday last. It looks an exceptionally strong fifteen and reads:

Paddy Moloney (Bruff), Donal Broderick (Dromcollogher), Eugene O'Brien (Cloughaun), C. O'Brien (Patrickswell), J. O'Donoghue (Mental Hospital), Con Simcox (Bruree), Sean O'Shea (Patrick-well), James O'Grady (Newcastle West), Dick Leonard (Ballysimon Faughans), Kevin Lynch (Patrick-well), Derry McCarthy (Dromcol-logher), B. Sheehan (Rathkeale), W. Keating (Dromcollogher), Tim Riordan (Murroe), D. Fitzgerald (Patrickswell).

Reserves: J. J. O'Brien, E.
 Mullane (Bruree), Paddy Broderick, Brendan Long (Dromcollogher), W. Corbett (Herbertstown), John Dooley (South Liberties), T. Maun (Rathkeale).

In order to pick a football side to play Waterford on the same occasion, a trial game will take place at Limerick Gaelic Grounds next Sunday evening, the teams engaged being:

County Board Selection — Eddie Browne (Abbeyfeale), P. J. Cussen (Galbally), Nielus Murphy (Abbey-feale), J. Stokes (Pallasgreen), Mick O'Gorman (Killeen), J.
 Murphy (Athen), M. Dalton (do.), J. Liston (do.), T. Ryan (Oola), P.
 Fitzgerald (Glin), Paddy Flaherty (Pallasgreen), Kevin Barrett (Glin), Jim Hayes (Athen), Paddy Quirke (Pallasgreen).

Reserves: Dick Power, Pat Ryan (Pallasgreen), Tom Mann (Galbally), Darby Fitzgerald (Killeen), C. O'Connell (Athen).

Treaty-Sarsfield Club Selection (all members of Treaty, except where stated otherwise):

Tom. Harnett, P. J. O'Shen, M.
 Murphy (Greenpark), Paddy Reidy, C. Mannix (Cloughaun), Tim Murphy, M. Carroll, P. J. Begley (C.I.E.), Joe O'Leary, Joe Mitchell, Nicholas O'Dea (St. Patrick's), M.
 Flanagan, J. O'Callaghan (Cloughaun), J. Fitzgerald, Wm. O'Shea.

Reserves: Larry Nolan, Michael Fitzgerald, M. Horan (C.I.E.), W.
 White (Cloughaun), M. Courtney (12th Battalion).

A minor hurling trial is also listed for Sunday next, the teams in this being:

County Board Selection — W.
 Naughton (Kilmallock), M. Murphy (Adare), T. O'Keefe (Kilfinane), L.
 Treacy (Newcastle West), Seamus Walsh (Kilfinane); Ed. Vaughan

West.

Reserves: Pat Byrnes (Copsewood), M. O'Connor (Newcastle West), Patrick O'Brien (Murroe), C. Mulcahy (Rathkeale), C. Cremin (South Liberties).

Treaty-Sarsfield Club Selection (all members of Treaty, unless otherwise stated):

Noel Kelly, Patrick Fitzgibbon, M.
 Madden (Cloughaun), Eamonn Herbert (Ballysimon Faughns), J.
 Regan (do.), M. McInerney, J.
 O'Sullivan (St. Munchin's College), Jim Murnane (Cloughaun), C.
 O'Connor (Ballybrown), Pascal Cleary, Mick O'Shea, Dermot Kelly (Cloughaun), Tom Fitzgerald, Tom Cronin, J. English (Cloughaun).

Reserves: J. Power (Ballybrown), W. Hannon (do.), Jim Murnane, J.
 Muholand, Jim Fitzgibbon.

No Match For Tipperary Champions.

The overwhelming defeat of St.
 Patrick's, on Sunday last, at the Limerick Gaelic Grounds, was one of the heaviest ever experienced by a Shannonside champion fifteen and rates the present standard of Limerick club hurling rather lowly.

Outhurled, outpaced and outclassed from the word "go," the St.
 Patrick's lads were never in the hunt and the result was a foregone conclusion long before the interval.
 Borrisoleigh romped home the easiest of winners and impressed all with their fine physique, grand ground hurling and quick pulling.

They looked a splendid team as they marched behind the newly-formed Limerick Pipe Band, and proved it immediately they made contact with the fast white sliotar.

Public support for the tournament, organised for a very worthy object, was most disappointing and it is evident that these club clashes —once so attractive — have lost their appeal. And certainly the display we witnessed in this latest clash could do nothing to popularise such gatherings in the future.

Nevertheless, I feel that the final between Glen Rovers and Borrisoleigh will be a real thriller and well worth going any distance to see.

St. Patrick's struck rock-bottom on Sunday and have plenty of hard work ahead in order to recover form that got them to the top by the Shannon last autumn. Beaten in every sector, they never matched up to the Tipperary challenge, and although they had the breeze behind them in the opening moiety, were led 3-3 to a solitary point at the interval.

Matters did not improve in the second spell and entering the final quarter, the Tipperary champions were ahead, 6-7 to 6-3. At this stage their inter-county representatives retired—a wise precaution in view of the all-important National Hurling League final next Sunday and the subsequent American trip for the winners—and "Saints" had an inning that reduced the lead somewhat, leaving the final tally—Borrisoleigh, 6-7; St. Patrick's, 1-4.

Around The Ballcourts.

Handball in Limerick City has certainly fallen on evil days and the area that once boasted a host of wonder ballplayers headed by that prince of champions, the late Johnny Bowles, has not now a solitary player of worth. This is all the more disappointing when we realise that Limerick is far ahead of other cities in the provision of facilities for the playing of this grand old game, and the Corporation have erected some half-a-dozen first-class public handball courts in the thickly populated districts.

A recent visit to the scene of some of the greatest handball triumphs of the past—the famous Rutland Street Court—revealed that old landmark in a sad state of decay, and I felt that an effort should be made before it is too late to rescue it from utter destruction.

It is difficult to know where to commence with a handball revival drive in the city, but I think that taking the long term view, best results would be obtained were a start to be made with the Primary Schools. The old traditions of the game must be still strong in the city and an earnest push could not but bear rich fruit.

Sidelights From The Sidelines.

The President and Secretary of has been extended by the Central Council to each club, Co. Board and Provincial Council, to subscribe.

Limerick players figuring in the declarations for native county for the coming championship season are:—For Limerick, Dr. Dick Stokes and Mick Ryan. For Westmeath, Seamus Grealy and Dom-nach Seanian (Limerick). For Cork, Owen O'Riordan (Limerick). For Clare, Patrick J. O'Dea (Limerick).

Johnny Power, now working in Claremorris, has declared Annacotty, Co. Limerick, as his place of residence, and Nicholas McGrath, working in Hospital, has declared Waterford as his place of abode.

The members of the Kilfinane minor hurling team recently reinstated by the Council are—Patrick and Michael McNamee, Thomas O'Keeffe, Donnachad and Tadhg O'Maoilain, Sean O'Dubain, Patrick and Thomas Ryan, Seamus Hennessy, Daite and Eamonn Nunan, and Thomas O'Samsiun.

Inter-county transfers sanctioned include—Simon Riordan, London to Patrickswell, Limerick; M.
 O'Scannlain, London to Galbally,