DEATH OF MR. P. O'DWYER, BALLYSIMON

Hosts of friends in Limerick City and County (writes a correspondent) have heard with regret of the death of Paddy O'Dwyer, of Ballysimon. The "Dasher," as he was familiarly known, had reached a fine old age, and despite a serious illness was full of vitality almost to the last. Employed as a miller at Rank's Ltd., he had a long and faithful service and always walked from Ballysimon to his work. He was a Jubiliarian of the Arch-Confraternity of the Holy Family.

A well-known hurler in his younger days, it can safely be said of him that the G.A.A. had no more loyal and staunch member. Only a few weeks ago, in awful weather conditions, he had to be taken to Patrickswell to see Ballysimon Faughs play the "Well." His funeral, one of the largest ever seen in the district, testified to his popularity. His remains were laid to rest in Killeen-Killonan, within a stone's throw of the Faughs hurling field.

A graceful tribute was paid to his memory on Sunday last, prior to the Ahane and Faughs match at Lisnagry, when the Faughs team appeared wearing mourning armlets and observed two minutes silence. To his sons and daughters deepest sympathy and to his soul eternal rest and peace in heaven.

granted, the Guards would have no cause for complaint. The bar would be supervised more thoroughly in future.

Justice Gleeson—I'll grant the application if I get an undertaking the same man is not in charge of the bar.

MADE A MISTAKE.

Mrs. Andrea Webber swore that the Guards found the irregularity in the bar because the attendant mistook residents for non-residents.

Granting the application "with considerable reluctance," the Justice said, for the benefit of the present and other licensees making such applications, that if there were any abuses of licences during exemption times, he would absolutely refuse to give any facility of any kind to hotels. Courts usually had to grant exemptions on trust, and if licensees broke that trust once, they shouldn't be given a chance to do it again.

OLD COMRADES I.R.A.

MEETING IN LIMERICK

A meeting of the Old Comrades Irish Republican Army, held at the Gaelic Rooms, Thomas Street, Limerick, was attended by the officers and members of the affiliated Branches of the Association in Co. Limerick and also by representatives from Nenagh and Newport, Co. Tipperary.

Mr. Owen McCarthy, Secretary National Executive, gave a detailed account of the methods which will be adopted by the New Military Service Pensions Board and laid stress on the importance for each applicant to select his, or her own witnesses who can vouch for the activities claimed by them in the petition form. He warned members against the danger of reverting to verifying officers and to be on their guard against any offer of free legal aid. Applicants and their witnesses acting loyally together, he said, are the surest guarantee of success.

The meeting decided to instruct Mr. John O'Connor, Bruff, the representative for Limerick on the National Advisory Council, to arrange for a County Convention before the end of May and to invite all I.R.A. and C. na mBan to attend, and that advertisements be inserted in the local papers and invitations extended to Clare, Tipperary and North Kerry to send delegates.

The meeting concluded with a vote of thanks to Mr. Owen McCarthy.

COST OF LIVING

LIMERICK FIANNA COMMENTS

Ald. M. Hartney presided at the monthly Committee meeting held at the Brazier-Naughton Cinema, Limerick, last night, when a full attendance of members was present (says a supplied report).

Many matters of interest were discussed, stress being laid on the increased cost of living which was not reflected in the living figures published by the Government.

Reference was made to the statement of the Minister for Finance, Mr. Norton, in regard to the proposed fare to implement his Security Scheme, which, it was stated, had not been in operation long.

The policy of the Government in providing plenty for the people, far as tea, sugar and bread were concerned, owing to off-the-ration prices prevailing, but which was availed of by the workers, was described as class legislation. Prices did not make any difference to the wealthy, but it was pointed out that the workers' children had equal right to a sufficient quantity of sugar and butter as children of the rich, which they were denied owing to the abnormally high prices fixed by the Government in off-the-ration supplies.
